Oil Gouging Hit By MSA Report

Five Firms Cited; Put Onuson U.S.

Justice Department File to Recover 50 Million on Grounds They Set Overcharges

Citizens Paid Fees

Taxpayer Cost to Nation Getting Marshall Aid Is Basis

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP) — The Mutual Security Agency (MSA), in a new report to investigating Senators, has accused five U. S. oil companies of heaping "an undue burden x x x on the American taxpayer" for their own profit.

It named the five as Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, Gulf Oil Co., Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. and the Texas Co.

The report, requested by the Senate Small Business Committee's monopoly subcommittee and made public last night, accused the five of "price discrimination on a world-wide scale." It said they inflated the price of oil shipped from the Middle East to European nations receiving Marshall Plan aid.

Suit Is Filed

The Justice Department, at MSA's request, already has filed suit to recover 50 million dollars from the five companies on grounds of overcharges on bills paid with foreign aid funds.

Dr. Walter Adams, economic counsel to the senate committee, told a reporter MSA, which administers foreign aid, contends the total overcharges would be more than 50 million, but that he does not know how much more.

The companies, the report said, charged the Europeans "exorbitant prices" for oil, far higher than they charged for deliveries to the United States from the same middle eastern fields.

"Because of this two-price system and the abnormally high price charged in European markets, an undue burden was placed on the American taxpayer, who was footing the bill for Marshall Plan aid," the committee said in a prepared statement quoting the report.

Allocations Reported

It said MSA also reported that Arabian-American Oil Co., owned jointly by four of the five firms, obtained postwar steel allocations for construction of the trans-Arabian oil pipe line with an understanding that the line would lower the transportation cost to the European nations. Savings were not passed on to the Europeans, it alleged, adding:

The only defense offered by the companies for this situation was that the large risks inherent in middle eastern operations made it necessary to amortize the new pipe line as quickly as possible."

It named the four companies owning Arabian-American as the two Standards, Socony-Vacuum and the Texas Co.

To Stand On Statements

In New York, spokesmen for Standard of New Jersey and the Texas company said they would stand on their previous statements, which were similar.

New Jersey Standard's statement, issued in April, said Esso Export Corporation sales have always been a competitive prices. It said these prices were well known and have not been protested by any of the countries concerned.

David Proctor, vice president and general counsel for Gulf Oil Corp., said in Pittsburgh:

"As far as I know there has been no claim made against Gulf Oil by the Mutual Security Agency. That's all I have to say."

Eisenhower Stand Hits GOP View

Blames Situation Upon 'Terrible Blunders' as Followup to Support for Korean War

Disavows Ideas

Attack on Red China, He Says, Would Be Primer for War

Denver, Aug. 22 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's sharp disagreement with Korean war policy views voiced by some Republicans raised a question today whether he might get a kick-back within the party ranks.

The general coupled the criticism with an assertion that "really terrible blunders" brought on the war—a direct jab at the Truman administration.

But he also said at a meeting of midwestern Republican leaders at Kansas City, Kan., yesterday that:

1. Because of the "terrible blunders," this country had no choice but to intervene when the Communists attacked the South Koreans in June, 1950. If it had not done so, the general added, "we would already be involved in a very much greater and more serious thing than we are today."

Grants No Excuse

But he said that "does not excuse the people that allowed the conditions to arise that brought about that emergency."

2. If the allies attacked Red China, "we would be * * * starting another war far more difficult to stop than the one we are in now." And he said further that "no one I know of has presented any feasible military plan for attacking China."

On that point, Eisenhower appeared to be taking direct issue with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and GOP members of Congress who have backed MacArthur's proposal that the allies bomb Communist China's Manchurian bases north of the Yalu River.

MacArthur backed Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination and Taft has supported MacArthur's proposed Korean war policies.

Different View Held

On the other point—Eisenhower's statement that the United States had no choice but to intervene in Korea, there also are some Republicans who hold a different view. They feel it was a

Two New Polio Cases Reported in County

Two new cases of polio were reported to the Ulster County Department of Health this morning, bringing the total number of reported cases in the county this year to 18, including one death.

The two new cases are both county residents. One patient is a boy, seven weeks old, and the other a woman, 35 years of age.

Little Choice Is Seen for Farmers Between Nominees

Eisenhower Stand Is Held as Quite Like That of Opponent in Campaign

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Farmers may find little difference in the views of the two major presidential candidates on the question of price supports for agricultural commodities.

Statements made by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, and Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic standard bearer, at news conferences yesterday indicated that their positions on this issue, when finally outlined, may be quite similar.

Eisenhower, at Kansas City, said in reply to a query that if he were elected there would be no tampering with the price support law. He said he had received no suggestions that supports be lowered.

Stevenson ruled out the controversial Brannan plan which Eisenhower and the GOP national platform had sought to tie to the Democrats. The Illinois governor at Minocqua, Wis., said in effect that the Republicans, in trying to make the Brannan plan an issue, were barking up the wrong tree. He said this plan was obsolete, that it had not been endorsed by his party's platform or recommended by its candidates.

Open to Interpretation

Thus the statements of the rival candidates were open to the interpretation that both endorse the existing farm price support law.

This law requires that basic crops—wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts—be supported at not less than 90 per cent of parity—the level in effect this year—during the next two crop years.

It was passed shortly before Congress adjourned last month, with the approval of Democrats and Republicans alike. It has the effect of setting aside, for the next two years, a system of flexible supports which had been criticized by President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

TO Continue Supports

The Democratic platform promises to "continue" the 90 per cent minimum supports beyond the two-year period. Eisenhower's statement that there would be no reduction in price supports could be interpreted as meaning that he too would advocate their continuance.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to producers and to those who buy their products.

Present law also requires that some other products—such as dairy products, wool and mohair—be supported at levels ranging from 60 to 90 per cent of parity. Supports for other commodities also are permissible.

Would Broaden Activities

The Brannan Plan, which was first outlined by the Secretary of Agriculture in 1949, would broaden the federal government's activities in agriculture. It would set up a system of high, rigid price supports and would extend such supports to many products not now covered. It would extend government power to restrict production of many products not now subject to restriction. It also would make broader use of subsidies to assure farmers "fair" returns for perishable commodities.

If any substantial difference

Rain Douses Fair In Final Moments

Officials, However, Report Event One of Most Successful

Exhibitors and late visitors to the Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park Thursday afternoon returned home drenched to the skin from a driving rain which fell as the fair broke up about 5 p. m.

Booths were dismantled and packed away in trucks and automobiles as the fairgrounds was transformed from a gay and festival-like atmosphere to a rainy, soggy mess.

The rain did not dampen the spirits of officials, however, who recalled that the fair was one of the county's most successful, with a large number of entries and one day—Wednesday— of almost perfect weather.

The rain which threatened all day Thursday and began drizzling early in the afternoon failed to hamper either the appearance on the fairgrounds of William Bendix and a party of movie personnel, or the scheduled judging of the horse department entries.

MW Coal Contract Expiration Notice Sets Strike Stage

Union Boss Gives 30-Day Warning to Mediators Required by T-H Labor Act

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Government officials said today that John L. Lewis has given formal notice that his contracts with the coal industry will expire at the end of September. This set up the possibility of a nationwide coal strike at that time.

The Taft-Hartley Labor Act requires that the government be informed of a labor dispute at least 30 days before the work contract expires.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers union, gave federal mediators the required notice that contracts with both the soft and hard coal industry will run out then, these officials said.

This could—as it has done before—precede a strike providing no agreement on a new contract is reached by the end of September.

The notice was signed by the union's general counsel, Welly Hopkins.

No UMW Comment

UMW headquarters here said this morning it had no comment on the matter.

Lewis has been negotiating off and on since July 24 with Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, and Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association. His negotiations with Moody did not start until the beginning of this month.

Sixty days notice is required before the expiring contracts between the UMW and the industry can be ended.

Encephalitis Hits California, Borne On Mosquito Wing

San Francisco, Aug. 22 (AP)—An encephalitis epidemic is creeping northward up California's central valleys, borne on the wings of the tiny female mosquito.

Already the sleeping sickness has claimed 30 lives and nearly 500 have been reported stricken, the State Health Department reported.

Twelve died within the last week.

Must Kill Carriers

The only hope is to kill off the mosquitos. Hundreds of men are spraying 276 towns in the valley lowlands and then laying down quarter-mile-wide barriers of poison residue spray around them.

The female culex tarsalis mosquito—common in California—carries the disease from birds and fowl to horses and human beings.

A total of 499 cases have been reported to the State Health Department, but only 315 have been clinically diagnosed as encephalitis.

Two Tests Needed

Two blood tests from the patient are necessary to determine absolutely that the disease is encephalitis. In most of the reported cases, the necessary two blood tests were not taken.

Dr. Malcolm Merrill, acting director of the Health Department said the disease acts quickly. Those stricken usually recover quickly or die within 24 to 48 hours.

Dr. Merrill said the epidemic may reach as far north as Shasta county—near the Oregon border—before summer is over. He said, however, that it is not expected to branch out of the interior valleys.

Tests Show Public Cool To Store Posting on Food

Davioni Refuses To Talk in Case

Won't Discuss Cafe Society Fearing Incrimination; Is Vexed at Jelke Walk-out on Him

New York, Aug. 22 (AP) — Indictments in the city-wide probe of high-priced vice were postponed today until next week.

Authorities, who yesterday hinted the grand jury would return a series of indictments today, said presentation of evidence would not be completed.

One reason for the delay was believed to be the refusal yesterday of Raymond Russell Davioni to tell the grand jury what he knows about cafe society vice.

Refuses to Tell

New York, Aug. 22 (AP) — The refusal of Raymond Russell Davioni to tell a grand jury what he knows about cafe society vice apparently has re-involved his blonde wife in the city-wide probe.

The 23-year-old Davioni, an unemployed press agent, balked at appearing before the jury yesterday after he reportedly promised to reveal the "lowdown" on high priced vice—including reports of $500-a-night call girls.

An hour before he was to appear before the jury, Davioni refused to sign a waiver of immunity — a document which would leave him open to prosecution if his testimony incriminated him.

Released Once

Later, Davioni's wife, 24-year-old Gloria Sinclair, was questioned, arraigned and held in $10,000 bail as a material witness. She had been questioned and released a few days ago.

Davioni, along with margarine heir Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, 22, has been charged with compulsory prostitution, living off the proceeds of prostitution, and conspiracy. Jelke also has two gun charges against him.

Davioni has been in jail in lieu of $45,000 bail. Jelke is free in $50,000 bond.

After Davioni's balk, his attorney, Murray Cutler, said:

"I don't know why he didn't sign a waiver and go before the grand jury as I advised him to. I can see no reason why he should not. He still hasn't made up his mind."

Some observers believe his wife was brought back into the vice crack-down to get Davioni to

Mixed Reaction Noted Among Grocers in Widely Scattered Sections

(By The Associated Press)

Restoration of ceiling price posting in food stores in three western separated test citites has drawn mixed reactions from grocers ranging from warm support to strong opposition but has left the public apathetic, a spot survey today indicated.

The Office of Price Stablization suspended the nationwide program July 28 after it had been in effect six months. Early this month it was reimposed on the test cities of Fargo, N. D., Jacksonville, Fla., and Fresno, Calif.

The survey showed considerable support among grocers in Fargo and strongest opposition in Fresno. But shoppers in the three cities paid little attention to the ceiling price posters and many were unaware of their existence.

Is Full Success

Fargo grocers said it was a full success—that is, if any controls at all are necessary. They called it the best system used so far, with few officials interrupting management.

A majority of Fargo store operators said, however, that few shoppers check the charts any more and "most people appear to have accepted higher prices." One dissenting store owner said the system "doesn't mean anything because ceilings have been taken off so many items."

Another owner said he believed the system, reinstated early this month after having been suspended for a month, helped at first in calling attention of customers to prices and helping to bring price competition.

System Little Known

A check of customers in 20 Fargo stores showed few knew much if anything about the system, with some well-dressed shoppers appearing embarrassed that they had taken no notice of the price charts or hadn't even heard of them.

In Jacksonville, independent grocers reported that customers paid little attention to the price lists. One, Aaron C. Crews, said that "poster prices are three and four cents above shelf prices, and people don't pay any attention to the posters."

W. E. Law, Florida sales manager for the A. and P. food chain, said store managers had been given firm instructions to observe ceiling prices and "customers for the most part seem to be well

Criticism and Praise Are Unloaded Upon Secretary Acheson in New York

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson was the object of criticism and praise last night in a foreign policy debate between Republican John Foster Dulles and Democrat Averell Harriman.

Said Dulles:

"I believe that the party which has not got the courage and guts to stand up for its Secretary of State has not got the guts to stand up to the Russians.

"Why was not your Secretary of State invited to Chicago and why was the name of the Secretary of State never once mentioned in the whole course of the (Democratic convention) proceedings?"

Replied the Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman:

"That's very unfair because the President and all of the Democrats have stood up for Dean Acheson, one of the great secretaries of state."

Both Dulles and Harriman have been mentioned within their own parties as possible choices for the post of secretary of state, depending on the outcome of the November election.

But each gave non-committal answers when asked if they would accept such an appointment.

Harriman phrased his reply thusly:

"The only thing I've heard is what I read in the newspapers. The thing never came up in a number of conversations I've had with Gov. (Adlai) Stevenson (the Democratic presidential nominee)."

And Dulles, former Republican advisor to the state department, phrased his answer as follows:

"I can't say anything about that, except that our whole concentration at the moment is on electing General (Dwight) Eisenhower.

"If he is not elected, it will be a tragedy. If he is, we'll deal with future problems later."

Returning to the foreign policy debate, Dulles said what he described as the "containment" policy of the Truman administration has "snuffed out hope" within the area of communist domination and has allowed the Russians to consolidate their gains.

"The first thing I would do would be to shift from a purely defensive policy to a psychological offensive," Dulles added, "a liberation policy, which will try to give hope and a resistance mood within the Soviet empire."

Harriman replied that the Truman administration never had used the word "containment" and added:

"It's very dangerous to talk about liberation, because the word 'liberation' in Europe means war.

"The people there are terrified by the word x x x."

Dulles and Harriman debated on a Columbia Broadcasting System teelvision program, "Pick the Winner."

Contractors May See Senate Heating Plans

Drawings and specifications for the new heating system to be installed in the Senate House, Clinton avenue, this city, arrived today and are now on view at the Senate House.

Local contractors may examine the papers by requesting them from the custodian on duty. The Senate House is open daily from 9 to 5 daily and from 1 to 5 on Sunday.

A legal notice published in The Freeman Wednesday says bids are returnable Sept. 11 at Albany.

When drawings and specifications for this work failed to arrive from either the state department of public works or the state education department, these were obtained by Secretary Richard O. Gruver, of the Senate House Association, through Senator Arthur H. Wicks' Albany office so that local plumbing and heating contractors might have an opportunity to enter the bidding.

Two Top Racing Figures Oppose Off-Track Betting

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—A legislative committee was to hear two more witnesses' views of off-track betting on horse races today, after listening to a pair of top racing figures say the idea would not work out.

The joint legislative committee on racing scheduled as witnesses John A. Morris, president of the Metropolitan Jockey Club, which operates the Jamaica track, and Spencer J. Drayton, head of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Association.

Morris also is secretary-treasurer of the Saratoga Racing Association, which operates the track here—the nation's oldest.

The committee, headed by Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, Kingston Republican, opened the hearing yesterday.

The first two witnesses—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Carleton F. Burke—said off-track betting would neither eliminate bookmaking nor yield the state added revenue.

Vanderbilt, president of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations of the United States, owns a large string of race horses. Burke is racing director at Santa Anita track in California and was the first chairman of the California Racing Commission.

Vanderbilt said he disagreed with arguments that off-track betting would get rid of bookmakers and bring the state more revenue.

Bookmaking takes money from people who cannot afford to lose it, Vanderbilt said.

Attorney General Nathaniel Goldstein said to the wealthy sportsman: You could lose a $200 bet and it wouldn't mean a thing to you."

Vanderbilt said that was true, except that he didn't bet.

Burke said off-track betting would strip the public of the protection afforded under the present system of pari-mutuel betting and make it impossible to shield the public from undesirable elements.

The joint committee, created by the 1951 legislature, was continued another year to study off-track wagering.

Justice Department File to Recover 50 Million on Grounds They Set Overcharges

Citizens Paid Fees

Taxpayer Cost to Nation Getting Marshall Aid Is Basis

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP) — The Mutual Security Agency (MSA), in a new report to investigating Senators, has accused five U. S. oil companies of heaping "an undue burden x x x on the American taxpayer" for their own profit.

It named the five as Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, Gulf Oil Co., Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. and the Texas Co.

The report, requested by the Senate Small Business Committee's monopoly subcommittee and made public last night, accused the five of "price discrimination on a world-wide scale." It said they inflated the price of oil shipped from the Middle East to European nations receiving Marshall Plan aid.

Suit Is Filed

The Justice Department, at MSA's request, already has filed suit to recover 50 million dollars from the five companies on grounds of overcharges on bills paid with foreign aid funds.

Dr. Walter Adams, economic counsel to the senate committee, told a reporter MSA, which administers foreign aid, contends the total overcharges would be more than 50 million, but that he does not know how much more.

The companies, the report said, charged the Europeans "exorbitant prices" for oil, far higher than they charged for deliveries to the United States from the same middle eastern fields.

"Because of this two-price system and the abnormally high price charged in European markets, an undue burden was placed on the American taxpayer, who was footing the bill for Marshall Plan aid," the committee said in a prepared statement quoting the report.

Allocations Reported

It said MSA also reported that Arabian-American Oil Co., owned jointly by four of the five firms, obtained postwar steel allocations for construction of the trans-Arabian oil pipe line with an understanding that the line would lower the transportation cost to the European nations. Savings were not passed on to the Europeans, it alleged, adding:

The only defense offered by the companies for this situation was that the large risks inherent in middle eastern operations made it necessary to amortize the new pipe line as quickly as possible."

It named the four companies owning Arabian-American as the two Standards, Socony-Vacuum and the Texas Co.

To Stand On Statements

In New York, spokesmen for Standard of New Jersey and the Texas company said they would stand on their previous statements, which were similar.

New Jersey Standard's statement, issued in April, said Esso Export Corporation sales have always been a competitive prices. It said these prices were well known and have not been protested by any of the countries concerned.

David Proctor, vice president and general counsel for Gulf Oil Corp., said in Pittsburgh:

"As far as I know there has been no claim made against Gulf Oil by the Mutual Security Agency. That's all I have to say."

Movie Actor William Bendix scored a hit with residents of Kingston during his appearance here on Thursday in substitution for Actress Arlene Dahl.

Bendix, a master at repartee, wise-cracked his way into the hearts of those who saw and heard him during his welcome at the city hall, at the Kiwanis-Rotary Club luncheon, at the Ulster County Fair, and at the Kingston Theatre during the premiere showing of Caribbean.

Although nothing was sacred to the actor, his good-natured way of putting across jibes aimed at many was such that no one appeared to take offense.

With Bendix' party were Lydia

Officials, However, Report Event One of Most Successful

Exhibitors and late visitors to the Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park Thursday afternoon returned home drenched to the skin from a driving rain which fell as the fair broke up about 5 p. m.

Booths were dismantled and packed away in trucks and automobiles as the fairgrounds was transformed from a gay and festival-like atmosphere to a rainy, soggy mess.

The rain did not dampen the spirits of officials, however, who recalled that the fair was one of the county's most successful, with a large number of entries and one day—Wednesday— of almost perfect weather.

The rain which threatened all day Thursday and began drizzling early in the afternoon failed to hamper either the appearance on the fairgrounds of William Bendix and a party of movie personnel, or the scheduled judging of the horse department entries.

Winner in the novelty class for riders over 14 was Arthur Heidcamp, R.F.D. 1, Kingston. Runners up were Nancy Herzog, 61 Lounsbery place, second; Helen E. Dargan, Saugerties, third, and Blair Cornish, Stone Ridge, fourth.

In the novelty class for riders under 14, first place honors went to Kirk Pendleton of West Hurley; second to Betsy Milliken,

Two Top Racing Figures Oppose Off-Track Betting

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—A legislative committee was to hear two more witnesses' views of off-track betting on horse races today, after listening to a pair of top racing figures say the idea would not work out.

The joint legislative committee on racing scheduled as witnesses John A. Morris, president of the Metropolitan Jockey Club, which operates the Jamaica track, and Spencer J. Drayton, head of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Association.

Morris also is secretary-treasurer of the Saratoga Racing Association, which operates the track here—the nation's oldest.

The committee, headed by Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, Kingston Republican, opened the hearing yesterday.

The first two witnesses—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Carleton F. Burke—said off-track betting would neither eliminate bookmaking nor yield the state added revenue.

Vanderbilt, president of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations of the United States, owns a large string of race horses. Burke is racing director at Santa Anita track in California and was the first chairman of the California Racing Commission.

Vanderbilt said he disagreed with arguments that off-track betting would get rid of bookmakers and bring the state more revenue.

Bookmaking takes money from people who cannot afford to lose it, Vanderbilt said.

Attorney General Nathaniel Goldstein said to the wealthy sportsman: You could lose a $200 bet and it wouldn't mean a thing to you."

Vanderbilt said that was true, except that he didn't bet.

Burke said off-track betting would strip the public of the protection afforded under the present system of pari-mutuel betting and make it impossible to shield the public from undesirable elements.

The joint committee, created by the 1951 legislature, was continued another year to study off-track wagering.

MW Coal Contract Expiration Notice Sets Strike Stage

Union Boss Gives 30-Day Warning to Mediators Required by T-H Labor Act

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Government officials said today that John L. Lewis has given formal notice that his contracts with the coal industry will expire at the end of September. This set up the possibility of a nationwide coal strike at that time.

The Taft-Hartley Labor Act requires that the government be informed of a labor dispute at least 30 days before the work contract expires.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers union, gave federal mediators the required notice that contracts with both the soft and hard coal industry will run out then, these officials said.

This could—as it has done before—precede a strike providing no agreement on a new contract is reached by the end of September.

The notice was signed by the union's general counsel, Welly Hopkins.

No UMW Comment

UMW headquarters here said this morning it had no comment on the matter.

Lewis has been negotiating off and on since July 24 with Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, and Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association. His negotiations with Moody did not start until the beginning of this month.

Sixty days notice is required before the expiring contracts between the UMW and the industry can be ended.

Encephalitis Hits California, Borne On Mosquito Wing

San Francisco, Aug. 22 (AP)—An encephalitis epidemic is creeping northward up California's central valleys, borne on the wings of the tiny female mosquito.

Already the sleeping sickness has claimed 30 lives and nearly 500 have been reported stricken, the State Health Department reported.

Twelve died within the last week.

Must Kill Carriers

The only hope is to kill off the mosquitos. Hundreds of men are spraying 276 towns in the valley lowlands and then laying down quarter-mile-wide barriers of poison residue spray around them.

The female culex tarsalis mosquito—common in California—carries the disease from birds and fowl to horses and human beings.

A total of 499 cases have been reported to the State Health Department, but only 315 have been clinically diagnosed as encephalitis.

Two Tests Needed

Two blood tests from the patient are necessary to determine absolutely that the disease is encephalitis. In most of the reported cases, the necessary two blood tests were not taken.

Dr. Malcolm Merrill, acting director of the Health Department said the disease acts quickly. Those stricken usually recover quickly or die within 24 to 48 hours.

Dr. Merrill said the epidemic may reach as far north as Shasta county—near the Oregon border—before summer is over. He said, however, that it is not expected to branch out of the interior valleys.

Tests Show Public Cool To Store Posting on Food

Mixed Reaction Noted Among Grocers in Widely Scattered Sections

(By The Associated Press)

Restoration of ceiling price posting in food stores in three western separated test citites has drawn mixed reactions from grocers ranging from warm support to strong opposition but has left the public apathetic, a spot survey today indicated.

The Office of Price Stablization suspended the nationwide program July 28 after it had been in effect six months. Early this month it was reimposed on the test cities of Fargo, N. D., Jacksonville, Fla., and Fresno, Calif.

The survey showed considerable support among grocers in Fargo and strongest opposition in Fresno. But shoppers in the three cities paid little attention to the ceiling price posters and many were unaware of their existence.

Is Full Success

Fargo grocers said it was a full success—that is, if any controls at all are necessary. They called it the best system used so far, with few officials interrupting management.

A majority of Fargo store operators said, however, that few shoppers check the charts any more and "most people appear to have accepted higher prices." One dissenting store owner said the system "doesn't mean anything because ceilings have been taken off so many items."

Another owner said he believed the system, reinstated early this month after having been suspended for a month, helped at first in calling attention of customers to prices and helping to bring price competition.

System Little Known

A check of customers in 20 Fargo stores showed few knew much if anything about the system, with some well-dressed shoppers appearing embarrassed that they had taken no notice of the price charts or hadn't even heard of them.

In Jacksonville, independent grocers reported that customers paid little attention to the price lists. One, Aaron C. Crews, said that "poster prices are three and four cents above shelf prices, and people don't pay any attention to the posters."

W. E. Law, Florida sales manager for the A. and P. food chain, said store managers had been given firm instructions to observe ceiling prices and "customers for the most part seem to be well

Davioni Refuses To Talk in Case

Won't Discuss Cafe Society Fearing Incrimination; Is Vexed at Jelke Walk-out on Him

New York, Aug. 22 (AP) — Indictments in the city-wide probe of high-priced vice were postponed today until next week.

Authorities, who yesterday hinted the grand jury would return a series of indictments today, said presentation of evidence would not be completed.

One reason for the delay was believed to be the refusal yesterday of Raymond Russell Davioni to tell the grand jury what he knows about cafe society vice.

Refuses to Tell

New York, Aug. 22 (AP) — The refusal of Raymond Russell Davioni to tell a grand jury what he knows about cafe society vice apparently has re-involved his blonde wife in the city-wide probe.

The 23-year-old Davioni, an unemployed press agent, balked at appearing before the jury yesterday after he reportedly promised to reveal the "lowdown" on high priced vice—including reports of $500-a-night call girls.

An hour before he was to appear before the jury, Davioni refused to sign a waiver of immunity — a document which would leave him open to prosecution if his testimony incriminated him.

Released Once

Later, Davioni's wife, 24-year-old Gloria Sinclair, was questioned, arraigned and held in $10,000 bail as a material witness. She had been questioned and released a few days ago.

Davioni, along with margarine heir Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, 22, has been charged with compulsory prostitution, living off the proceeds of prostitution, and conspiracy. Jelke also has two gun charges against him.

Davioni has been in jail in lieu of $45,000 bail. Jelke is free in $50,000 bond.

After Davioni's balk, his attorney, Murray Cutler, said:

"I don't know why he didn't sign a waiver and go before the grand jury as I advised him to. I can see no reason why he should not. He still hasn't made up his mind."

Some observers believe his wife was brought back into the vice crack-down to get Davioni to

Daylight Attacks Hit Red Supplies—Two Assaults Stopped

Seoul, Korea, Auug. 22 (AP)—UN fighter-bombers today smashed Communist targets all across the Korean peninsula. U. S. Sabre jets damaged two Russian-built MIG-75 jets.

On the ground, allied soldiers repulsed two light Red assaults.

Twelve B-26 bombers staged a daylight raid on a Communist supply area at Anak, on the Haeju peninsula, near the 38th parallel in Western Korea.

On the east coast, allied planes demolished five large warehouse buildings near Wonsan, the air force said.

Criticism and Praise Are Unloaded Upon Secretary Acheson in New York

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson was the object of criticism and praise last night in a foreign policy debate between Republican John Foster Dulles and Democrat Averell Harriman.

Said Dulles:

"I believe that the party which has not got the courage and guts to stand up for its Secretary of State has not got the guts to stand up to the Russians.

"Why was not your Secretary of State invited to Chicago and why was the name of the Secretary of State never once mentioned in the whole course of the (Democratic convention) proceedings?"

Replied the Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman:

"That's very unfair because the President and all of the Democrats have stood up for Dean Acheson, one of the great secretaries of state."

Both Dulles and Harriman have been mentioned within their own parties as possible choices for the post of secretary of state, depending on the outcome of the November election.

But each gave non-committal answers when asked if they would accept such an appointment.

Harriman phrased his reply thusly:

"The only thing I've heard is what I read in the newspapers. The thing never came up in a number of conversations I've had with Gov. (Adlai) Stevenson (the Democratic presidential nominee)."

And Dulles, former Republican advisor to the state department, phrased his answer as follows:

"I can't say anything about that, except that our whole concentration at the moment is on electing General (Dwight) Eisenhower.

"If he is not elected, it will be a tragedy. If he is, we'll deal with future problems later."

Returning to the foreign policy debate, Dulles said what he described as the "containment" policy of the Truman administration has "snuffed out hope" within the area of communist domination and has allowed the Russians to consolidate their gains.

"The first thing I would do would be to shift from a purely defensive policy to a psychological offensive," Dulles added, "a liberation policy, which will try to give hope and a resistance mood within the Soviet empire."

Harriman replied that the Truman administration never had used the word "containment" and added:

"It's very dangerous to talk about liberation, because the word 'liberation' in Europe means war.

"The people there are terrified by the word x x x."

Dulles and Harriman debated on a Columbia Broadcasting System teelvision program, "Pick the Winner."

Contractors May See Senate Heating Plans

Drawings and specifications for the new heating system to be installed in the Senate House, Clinton avenue, this city, arrived today and are now on view at the Senate House.

Local contractors may examine the papers by requesting them from the custodian on duty. The Senate House is open daily from 9 to 5 daily and from 1 to 5 on Sunday.

A legal notice published in The Freeman Wednesday says bids are returnable Sept. 11 at Albany.

When drawings and specifications for this work failed to arrive from either the state department of public works or the state education department, these were obtained by Secretary Richard O. Gruver, of the Senate House Association, through Senator Arthur H. Wicks' Albany office so that local plumbing and heating contractors might have an opportunity to enter the bidding.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Margaret C. De Boakes

Mrs. Margaret Cahaney De Boakes of 771 Broadway died Thursday morning at Kingston Hospital. Mrs. De Boakes, the widow of Arthur E. De Boakes, is survived by a daughter, Helena L. Deyo, Rensselaer; a granddaughter, Mrs. John Doring, North Greenbush; and a great grandson, Michael Doring, also of North Greenbush. The funeral will be held Monday at 9 a. m. from the Rockefeller Funeral Home, Second avenue in Rensselaer and thence to St. John's Church where at 9:30 a. m. a Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in Rensselaer.

Irving Meyer

Funeral services for Irving Meyer were held Thursday afternoon from the F. Daniel Halloran Funeral Home, 88 West Chester street. The number of friends who wished to attend the services were so great that many had to remain outside the funeral home until after the services were completed and then filed past the bier. Wednesday at 7 p. m., members of Kingston Lodge 550, BPOE, led by Exalted Ruler Francis J. McCardle, held their ritualistic service for their departed brother. A 8 p. m., members of Rondout Lodge, 343, F & A M, conducted the Masonic funeral service for their departed brother. The great number of people calling at the funeral home to pay their respect and offer condolence to the bereaved family was a great tribute to the esteem in which Mr. Meyer was held by all who knew him. Funeral services were conducted by Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim. Burial was in Agudas Achim Cemetery. Bearers were Arthur Jansen, Morris Cooper, George Margolis, Samuel Stone, Abraham Rosenthal, Harry Rose, Max Mones, Herman Eaton and Joseph Epstein.

Condition Is Improved

The condition of Mrs. Debra Henry, the nurse of Camp Rondout, LeFevre Falls, who was injured in a fall from a horse July 31 was reported improved today at the Albany Hospital. She had been unconscious for many days at the Benedictine Hospital here before she was transferred to the upstate hospital several days ago. She suffered a fractured skull in the mishap and has been under the care of Dr. Eldridge Campbell, a brain specialist.

Briggs Plan Is Tested Nationally

J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., who was one of the first appliance dealers to test out the plan of locating an appliance store on the outskirts of town, has received national attention by radio and in a recent article in "The Wall Street Journal" which tells of his new special "trade-in center" which is located adjacent to his place of business on the Saugerties road at the East Chester street by-pass.

In selling new Westinghouse appliances, Briggs found it necessary to take in trade many household articles. To market these second-hand appliances he, in cooperation with the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, devised a unique trade-in center.

After repairing, repainting and putting the used refrigerators, washers and kitchen ranges in condition, they are displayed at a specially-built small building separate from his main store. There are plenty of electrical outlets and signs urging customers to try out the machines but there is no salesman in sight. If a customer wants to purchase an item, he rings a bell and a salesman comes over from the main building.

In a special dispatch from a Wall Street Journal reporter in Chicago, comes a front page story last Wednesday describing the technique.

That article points out that most of the bigger makers of household appliances, like refrigerators, washers and kitchen ranges, are scrambling to put their dealers in the second hand business on a scientific, and profitable basis, and the article points out the success of J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., of Kingston. The article states that the Briggs idea is "perhaps typical of things to come" and points out that in the first ten days of the test he doubled his previous volumn rate and rang up $1062 in used appliance sales.

The idea was referred to on a NBC broadcast on Wednesday night on the "News of the World" program.

Westinghouse is using the plan as a national guide and the idea may become universal.

The Wall Street Journal points out that the market for new machines is becoming saturated. To sell new appliances, the dealer, nearly eight times out of ten must take in a trade-in. Faced with the problem of handling almost as many used appliances as new, the trade feels that it is high time to set up uniform and tested sales tactics. The Briggs plan is being tested out nationally with advertising, attractive displays and guarantees of good condition.

An idea which originated in Kingston by J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., appears to be on the road to national adoption.

City Starts Work On Blocked Sewer

Ernest A. Steuding, Board of Public Works superintendent, this morning ordered crews to dig down to locate a serious obstruction or possible break in the sanitary sewer system deep below Greenkill avenue between Clinton and Wilbur avenues.

The work will continue without interruption until the trouble is located and remedied, Steuding said, and arrangements are already being made to have portable floodlights in the area so that a crew may be kept at work after dark if necessary.

The blockage in the 24-foot deep sewer system developed about two days ago, causing the sewage system to back up to such an extent that three pumps going at a combined rate of 120,000 gallons an hour proved insufficient to relieve the situation, Steuding said.

On Mom's Vacation

The father who commutes from the city to a country place weekends doesn't need to wait for Mom's Sunday cooking to get a decent meal. He can enjoy her cooking even while she is away. All Mom needs to do is whip up a batch of meals for Pop and put them in the deep-freeze, says Betty Olson, Director of Home Economics (Crosley). If Mom hasn't had the foresight to plan these before she starts on her vacation, she can prepare a week's menus for Pop and he can put them in the deep freeze when he arrives home.

Sandwiches, pie, and stick-to-the-ribs food such as goulash, beans, chicken a la king, all can be prepared and frozen and left for the man of the house to heat up.

Indictments Hinted

Meanwhile, the district attorney's office has hinted that the jury will return a series of indictments today.

The case of red-haired Erica Steel, 24, was adjourned again yesterday in Women's Court, this time until Sept. 17. Miss Steel, termed a "madam" by the DA's office, has been formally charged with compulsory prostitution and possession of marijuana cigarettes.

However, those charges would be superseded by a grand jury indictment against her. Miss Steel is free in $3,500 bail.

Last night Joan Douglas, 20, who had been held as a material witness in the Jelke case, was freed from the Women's House of Detention.

Mother Puts Up Bail

Miss Douglas' mother, Mrs Elizabeth P. Sandlin, of Calvert, Md., supplied the bail by pledging a 14-room house, a 25-acre tract and a poultry farm in Maryland as security for a $10,000 bond furnished by a bonding company.

Miss Douglas was a roommate of Nancy Hawkins, 23, involved in the vice charges against Jelke.

The vice raids that started last week resulted in the roundup of a bevy of beautiful girls.

Race Horses Injured

Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 22 (AP) — Three harness race horses valued at $350,000 received minor injuries in the tornado that swept the Missouri State Fair grounds yesterday. Damage to equipment and installations forced cancellation of the remainder of the fair's grand circuit racing program. The horses were quartered in a barn that was wrecked. They were Tar Heel, owned by Lawrence Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., Shoe Farm; Duke of Lullwater, owned by Walter T. Candler, Decatur, Ga., and Simpson Hanover, owned by L. J. Buck, Far Hills, N. J. Tar Heel and Duke of Lullwater are valued at $125,000 and Simpson Hanover at $100,000. Four other horses in the barn escaped injury.

Petroleum products are known to have been used since Neolithic times when bitumen was used to cement parts of tools.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug 22 (AP)—Prices hovered around dead-center today in the stock market.

Very few issues moved as much as a major fraction away from the previous close.

Activity was limited all the way around with the volume at a rate near yesterday's extremely low 800,000 shares.

There were a lot of explanations, some more convincing than others, to justify the apathy.

Among them were vacations, approaching Labor Day, weekend evening-up operations, and others.

Not a single major division did anything more than hold steady or move in a narrowly mixed range.

Even individual corporate developments barely nudged issues. Mathieson Chemical and E. R. Squibb gained a small fraction after directors of both companies agreed to a previously proposed merger plan. Under the agreement, Squibb will become a division of Mathieson.

Eisenhower returned from the Kansas conference by plane last night after a two-day absence from his campaign headquarters. He made a speech in Boise, Idaho, Wednesday, and then flew to Kansas City for the session with GOP leaders from North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

Aides said he plans a quiet day today and that he might try to get in some trout fishing or golf. He will fly to New York Sunday for an address the next day to the American Legion's national convention in Madison Square Garden. The speech, Eisenhower has said, will be non-political.

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California made it clear today he will support Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin for re-election, if McCarthy is renominated and asks Nixon's backing.

Nixon, the Republican vice presidential nominee, replied to published reports that he would shun McCarthy with a statement issued through his office. It said:

"I am going to assist in the election of Republican members of the House and Senate wherever the opportunity presents. When the voters pick a nominee, I will accept the decision and abide by it in any state."

Opposition Reported

Outspoken opposition was reported in Fresno, Calif., where the Fresno County Grocers Association caled the program an unnecessary waste of taxpayers' money and said that it defeats the principles of free enterprise, forces increases in labor costs on the grocer, and casts suspicion on honest merchants.

The State Grocers Association publication, California Grocers Advocate, said in an editorial:

"This community price posting is an apparent attempt to keep more personnel on the OPS payroll, while Congress indicates price control activities should be reduced and items should be suspended from controls as rapidly as possible."

On the other hand, Russell Pavey, acting district director of the OPS at Fresno, declared that "the price posting experience at Fresno has confirmed our original expectation that the posting of ceiling prices in grocery stores is the most effective method of price control."

"Before price posting, 27 per cent of the basic food items surveyed in the major stores were above ceiling," said Pavey. "After four weeks of price posting, only nine per cent were above. The difference is, for the most part, the elimination of honest errors on the part of grocers."

Although an AP survey in Fresno showed a large proportion of the general public apatheic toward the program, or ignorant of its existence, a vocal minority of both consumers and grocers expressed strong support.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Margaret C. De Boakes

Mrs. Margaret Cahaney De Boakes of 771 Broadway died Thursday morning at Kingston Hospital. Mrs. De Boakes, the widow of Arthur E. De Boakes, is survived by a daughter, Helena L. Deyo, Rensselaer; a granddaughter, Mrs. John Doring, North Greenbush; and a great grandson, Michael Doring, also of North Greenbush. The funeral will be held Monday at 9 a. m. from the Rockefeller Funeral Home, Second avenue in Rensselaer and thence to St. John's Church where at 9:30 a. m. a Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in Rensselaer.

Irving Meyer

Funeral services for Irving Meyer were held Thursday afternoon from the F. Daniel Halloran Funeral Home, 88 West Chester street. The number of friends who wished to attend the services were so great that many had to remain outside the funeral home until after the services were completed and then filed past the bier. Wednesday at 7 p. m., members of Kingston Lodge 550, BPOE, led by Exalted Ruler Francis J. McCardle, held their ritualistic service for their departed brother. A 8 p. m., members of Rondout Lodge, 343, F & A M, conducted the Masonic funeral service for their departed brother. The great number of people calling at the funeral home to pay their respect and offer condolence to the bereaved family was a great tribute to the esteem in which Mr. Meyer was held by all who knew him. Funeral services were conducted by Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim. Burial was in Agudas Achim Cemetery. Bearers were Arthur Jansen, Morris Cooper, George Margolis, Samuel Stone, Abraham Rosenthal, Harry Rose, Max Mones, Herman Eaton and Joseph Epstein.

Condition Is Improved

The condition of Mrs. Debra Henry, the nurse of Camp Rondout, LeFevre Falls, who was injured in a fall from a horse July 31 was reported improved today at the Albany Hospital. She had been unconscious for many days at the Benedictine Hospital here before she was transferred to the upstate hospital several days ago. She suffered a fractured skull in the mishap and has been under the care of Dr. Eldridge Campbell, a brain specialist.

Briggs Plan Is Tested Nationally

J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., who was one of the first appliance dealers to test out the plan of locating an appliance store on the outskirts of town, has received national attention by radio and in a recent article in "The Wall Street Journal" which tells of his new special "trade-in center" which is located adjacent to his place of business on the Saugerties road at the East Chester street by-pass.

In selling new Westinghouse appliances, Briggs found it necessary to take in trade many household articles. To market these second-hand appliances he, in cooperation with the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, devised a unique trade-in center.

After repairing, repainting and putting the used refrigerators, washers and kitchen ranges in condition, they are displayed at a specially-built small building separate from his main store. There are plenty of electrical outlets and signs urging customers to try out the machines but there is no salesman in sight. If a customer wants to purchase an item, he rings a bell and a salesman comes over from the main building.

In a special dispatch from a Wall Street Journal reporter in Chicago, comes a front page story last Wednesday describing the technique.

That article points out that most of the bigger makers of household appliances, like refrigerators, washers and kitchen ranges, are scrambling to put their dealers in the second hand business on a scientific, and profitable basis, and the article points out the success of J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., of Kingston. The article states that the Briggs idea is "perhaps typical of things to come" and points out that in the first ten days of the test he doubled his previous volumn rate and rang up $1062 in used appliance sales.

The idea was referred to on a NBC broadcast on Wednesday night on the "News of the World" program.

Westinghouse is using the plan as a national guide and the idea may become universal.

The Wall Street Journal points out that the market for new machines is becoming saturated. To sell new appliances, the dealer, nearly eight times out of ten must take in a trade-in. Faced with the problem of handling almost as many used appliances as new, the trade feels that it is high time to set up uniform and tested sales tactics. The Briggs plan is being tested out nationally with advertising, attractive displays and guarantees of good condition.

An idea which originated in Kingston by J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., appears to be on the road to national adoption.

City Starts Work On Blocked Sewer

Ernest A. Steuding, Board of Public Works superintendent, this morning ordered crews to dig down to locate a serious obstruction or possible break in the sanitary sewer system deep below Greenkill avenue between Clinton and Wilbur avenues.

The work will continue without interruption until the trouble is located and remedied, Steuding said, and arrangements are already being made to have portable floodlights in the area so that a crew may be kept at work after dark if necessary.

The blockage in the 24-foot deep sewer system developed about two days ago, causing the sewage system to back up to such an extent that three pumps going at a combined rate of 120,000 gallons an hour proved insufficient to relieve the situation, Steuding said.

On Mom's Vacation

The father who commutes from the city to a country place weekends doesn't need to wait for Mom's Sunday cooking to get a decent meal. He can enjoy her cooking even while she is away. All Mom needs to do is whip up a batch of meals for Pop and put them in the deep-freeze, says Betty Olson, Director of Home Economics (Crosley). If Mom hasn't had the foresight to plan these before she starts on her vacation, she can prepare a week's menus for Pop and he can put them in the deep freeze when he arrives home.

Sandwiches, pie, and stick-to-the-ribs food such as goulash, beans, chicken a la king, all can be prepared and frozen and left for the man of the house to heat up.

Indictments Hinted

Meanwhile, the district attorney's office has hinted that the jury will return a series of indictments today.

The case of red-haired Erica Steel, 24, was adjourned again yesterday in Women's Court, this time until Sept. 17. Miss Steel, termed a "madam" by the DA's office, has been formally charged with compulsory prostitution and possession of marijuana cigarettes.

However, those charges would be superseded by a grand jury indictment against her. Miss Steel is free in $3,500 bail.

Last night Joan Douglas, 20, who had been held as a material witness in the Jelke case, was freed from the Women's House of Detention.

Mother Puts Up Bail

Miss Douglas' mother, Mrs Elizabeth P. Sandlin, of Calvert, Md., supplied the bail by pledging a 14-room house, a 25-acre tract and a poultry farm in Maryland as security for a $10,000 bond furnished by a bonding company.

Miss Douglas was a roommate of Nancy Hawkins, 23, involved in the vice charges against Jelke.

The vice raids that started last week resulted in the roundup of a bevy of beautiful girls.

Kefauver Not Interested

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), said today associates of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, had approached him on the possibility of his becoming U. S. attorney general, but that he was not interested. "I'm not interested in any cabinet post," Kefauver, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said.

Race Horses Injured

Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 22 (AP) — Three harness race horses valued at $350,000 received minor injuries in the tornado that swept the Missouri State Fair grounds yesterday. Damage to equipment and installations forced cancellation of the remainder of the fair's grand circuit racing program. The horses were quartered in a barn that was wrecked. They were Tar Heel, owned by Lawrence Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., Shoe Farm; Duke of Lullwater, owned by Walter T. Candler, Decatur, Ga., and Simpson Hanover, owned by L. J. Buck, Far Hills, N. J. Tar Heel and Duke of Lullwater are valued at $125,000 and Simpson Hanover at $100,000. Four other horses in the barn escaped injury.

Petroleum products are known to have been used since Neolithic times when bitumen was used to cement parts of tools.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug 22 (AP)—Prices hovered around dead-center today in the stock market.

Very few issues moved as much as a major fraction away from the previous close.

Activity was limited all the way around with the volume at a rate near yesterday's extremely low 800,000 shares.

There were a lot of explanations, some more convincing than others, to justify the apathy.

Among them were vacations, approaching Labor Day, weekend evening-up operations, and others.

Not a single major division did anything more than hold steady or move in a narrowly mixed range.

Even individual corporate developments barely nudged issues. Mathieson Chemical and E. R. Squibb gained a small fraction after directors of both companies agreed to a previously proposed merger plan. Under the agreement, Squibb will become a division of Mathieson.

Question Raised On McCarthy Aid

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP) — The chairman of the Democratic speakers' bureau called "incredible" today a Republican counterpart's assertion that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will support Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma issued this statement after Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota said on a radio program (NBS) last night that Eisenhower will "endorse and campaign actively" for McCarthy, if the latter is renominated by Wisconsin Republicans and if he asks for Eisenhower's help.

Mundt is co-chairman of the Republican campaign speakers' bureau. He was in consultation with Eisenhower recently in Denver, planning campaign strategy.

On the radio program, Mundt also said that Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, will also campaign for Sens. James P. Kem of Missouri, William E. Jenner of Indiana and John W. Bricker of Ohio, Republicans who have not shared Eisenhower's foreign policy views.

Monroney said he finds it impossible to believe that Eisenhower would appear on the same platform with McCarthy, because of the latter's attacks on Gen. George C. Marshall, who helped Eisenhower attain his five-star general's rank.

The Oklahoma senator noted that in a Senate speech McCarthy had accused Marshall of participating in "a conspiracy of infamy so black that when it is finally exposed, its principals shall be forever deserving of the maledictions of all honest men."

Injured in Collision

Vincent P. DeLuca, 23, of 45 Wilson avenue received a slight shoulder injury when the dry cleaner's truck he was driving and a New York Telephone Company vehicle collided on Route 9W near the Connelly road intersection at 4:40 p. m. Thursday, according to a report filed at the sheriff's office. Norman H. Tonnesen, 30, of Mt. Marion was listed as driver of the telephone company's vehicle. The back door and bumper of the DeLuca truck were slightly bent and the other vehicle was not damaged, the report stated.

Legion Protests Plan

Orangeburg, Aug. 22 (AP)—The American Legion Rockland county committee yesterday protested the scheduled destruction next summer of the Shanks Village veteran housing project. In letters to Senators Lehman (D-N.. Y.) and Ives (R-N. Y.) and to Rep. Katharine St. George (R- N. Y.) the committee asked them to sponsor legislation that would delay the recent Public Housing Administration directive ordering the village vacated by July 1.

Navy Unwraps 4 New Jet Fighters

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—The navy disclosed today that four new jet fighter planes have been given their first tests aboard a carrier.

Three of them—the single-engine XFJ-2 Fury and F9F-6 Cougar and the twin-engine Chance-Vought F7U-3—are those which Navy Secretary Kimball recently described as new navy planes which will be "better than the Russian MIG."

When and if the three are ordered into production, they will be the first of the navy's swept-wing carrier-based fighters.

They are the first to have low speed stability required for landing in limited space, along with the high speed capability the swept-back wings provide.

The fourth is the twin-engine, straight-wing F2H-3, a new model of the McDonnell Banshee.

All are faster, more maneuverable and more powerful than now in use.

The planes were given carrier suitability tests aboard the U.S.S. Midway off Norfolk, Va., Monday through Friday last week.

One Dead, 65 Hurt

Racine, Wis., Aug. 22 (AP) — A high-speed electric Chicago-to-Milwaukee train hit a car and jumped the rails near here late yesterday. The motorist was killed and 65 train passengers were injured. Hiram M. Bryant of Waukegan, Ill., Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee motorman, said his five-car commuter train was traveling at 75 miles an hour when it hit the car at the Chickory road crossing. "There wasn't a chance for me to try to hit the brakes," he said. "We hit him a second after I saw him." The driver, whose car was ripped to shreds of twisted metal, was Episano Leal, 31, of Racine, a foundry worker. Sixteen persons remained in hospitals. The others were released after first aid.

Evaporated milk per capita consumption by rural families in Eastern North Carolina is four times that of Western North Carolina families.

"All my life I've wanted to own a Buick"

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

It seems that owning a Buick is something that a lot of folks dream about—plan for—and finally do.

We say that because, so many times, they say so in words like those above.

Those words make us happy, of course—happy to know we sell a car which means so much to those who own it.

But they make us feel just a little bit sad as well—sad to realize all the years of fun such folks have been missing for no good reason at all.

For the fact is this:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

You can afford the thrill of bossing around that big Fireball 8 Engine that purrs forth a mighty flow of power.

You can afford the gas bills—as any owner of a 1952 Buick will tell you—because that high-compression, valve-in-head marvel gets a lot of miles from a gallon of fuel.

You can afford the extra luxury of a real million dollar ride—the silken smoothness of Dynaflow Drive*—the extra room and comfort and style that have put Buick popularity right up at the top of the list, next to the "low-priced three."

So if you want to own a Buick—there's just one thing to do:

Come in—pick the one of your choice—and let us show you how close the figure that goes on the bill of sale comes to what you'd pay elsewhere.

As we've said before, your first car can be a Buick. Why not take the Big Step now?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUGUST 22, 1952

FLUORIDATION OF WATER SUPPLY

Mayor Newkirk in a recent communication to the Commissioners of the Kingston Water Department requests that the members of the board take favorable action on the fluoridation of the city water supply.

In requesting favorable action by the board in this matter, the mayor bases his judgment on the report of State Health Commissioner Herman Hilleboe, which states that tooth decay among elementary school pupils in Newburgh dropped 47 per cent below the Kingston rate in eight years. Newburgh children have been drinking fluoridated water since the start of a state experiment while no fluorine was added to Kingston water. The report covered the period from 1944 through the middle of 1952.

Dr. Hilleboe also has reported that among children who had drunk fluoridated water since birth, the drop in dental decay was even greater—66 per cent below Kingston.

A very important part of the state health commissioner's report is the claim that after careful examination during the Kingston-Newburgh survey "absolutely no harmful effects from drinking fluoridated water were revealed."

This is of importance because The Freeman has published a number of communications from critics of the program to add fluoride compounds to our drinking water. These opponents claim that fluoridation of our drinking water at this time is a calculated risk as there is no actual scientific experiment to date which will prove that no harm will come to the older segment of the population, particularly those with kidney disease, diabetis, tuberculosis, etc.

Also included in the critics' stand are toxic effect, cost factor, legal aspect and hazards involved.

Those in favor point to the health commissioners' report that there is "absolutely no harmful effects from drinking fluoridated water" and also that this means of fighting tooth decay is simplicity itself.

Any adult who himself has suffered from tooth decay would go to considerable length to spare his children from the same costly discomfort.

The extent of tooth decay in this country is well illustrated by the high number of men turned down for military service because of it.

The Kingston Water Board Commissioners undoubtedly have rounded up all the facts necessary to an informed decision and will render that decision in the very near future.

A MATTER OF COMFORT

Most Army and Air Force bases demand high standards of neatness in dress from their personnel. Soldiers are expected to wear their uniforms proudly and that means shined shoes, shined belts, pressed, well tailored uniforms and hats set at the proper military angle. Many an ex-G.I. remembers the agony of being "properly dressed" at some of the warmer bases where the comfort of the troops was a secondary consideration to the demands of the officer in charge who refused to permit so much as a loosened necktie.

The Air Force has now ruled that its men may wear khaki shirts without neckties. The absence of ties will permit observers to see that the airmen wear white T-shirts. Air Force officials say that this is all right.

It is a sound idea for the services to consider the comfort of the men in uniform since comfort plays a large part in morale. How the idea will rest with old school army officers and non-coms is another matter. Many an old colonel is likely to get hot under his collar when the enlisted men become cooler under theirs. And many an old sergeant will have a hard time keeping his shirt on when he sees a private loosening his blouse.

Youngsters who protest Saturday night's scrubbing sessions might as well give up. The United States now possesses ninety-two per cent of the world's bathtubs.

There is supposed to be safety in numbers, but hardly so on a Sunday afternoon along the highways. The greater the number of cars the easier should be the foot on the gas pedal.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE FOUNDATIONS

A Congressional committee, headed by Representative Eugene Cox of Georgia, is now engaged in an investigation of the Foundations, a vast reservoir of dead men's money and a terrifying power in this country. It needs to be noted that many Foundations are organized by men still alive and by corporations as a device to do good instead of paying taxes. There are about 10,000 Foundations, large and small, and their funds run to more than $3,000,000,000.

The startling fact about some of the Foundations, particularly the larger ones, is that while they are founded by such capitalists as John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie, Julius Rosenwald and latterly Henry Ford, in time the help hired to run them have grown powerful and wilful and expend the money on causes which would have offended the benefactors were they alive to see it.

Henry Ford, for instance, made nearly all his money in this country, but Paul Hoffman, who is spending that money, seems to prefer to pour it into remote bottomless pits and to expend it for meaningless purposes, such as an investigation as to why the world is full of refugees, when, as a matter of fact, it always has been. That is how you and I and Paul Hoffman probably came to be born in this country.

Congressman Cox presided over the ill-fated investigation of the FCC with unusual ability. When he brought the investigation right into the White House, steps were taken by President Roosevelt to suppress it, and the President succeeded.

In the matter of the Foundations, Cox will be able to begin with at least two proved facts, namely, Alger Hiss' presidency of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the relations of the Carnegie and Rockefeller Foundations to the Institute of Pacific Relations. With regard to the former, Cox can begin where the courts ended; with regard to the latter, he has the McCarran Committee reports to guide him.

William Fulton, who made a study of the Foundations for the "American Legion Magazine," makes this very interesting point:

"How do the Stalinites and their stooges dip their buckets into the Foundation pool?

"They do it by masking the contributions they receive as legitimate and charitable. Millions of dollars have been ladled out to Communists and Red-front organizations under such euphemisms as fellowships, scholarships, research, studies for such humanitarian causes as international peace, better relations, and the like. Sometimes the ultimate beneficiary of such funds is hidden by cleverly relaying the money through two or even three intermediary Foundations."

Alger Hiss was not only president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace; he was also trustee of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation and the World Peace Foundation. He was a director of the Institute of Pacific Relations, one of the beneficiaries of both Carnegie and Rockefeller money. Here is an interlocking directorate by which a traitor had control of an $11,000,000 fund and access to several others.

Owen Lattimore had a travel and research grant from the Social Science Research Council which received more than $6,000,000 from the Carnegie, Rockefeller, Rosenwald, Russell Sage, and other Foundations.

It is possible to trace in the histories of some of the most notorious leftists in this country through the grants given them by the Foundations, as, for instance, Hanns Eisler, who was a known Communist before the Rockefeller Foundation aided him.

One of the most puzzling of all Foundations is the Guggenheim, set up by United States Senator Simon Guggenheim, a Republican and conservative. It is startling to note how many Communists and lefists have received grants from this particular Foundation, running between $2,500 and $3,000.

It would be unwise and not beneficial to abolish the Foundations. Many of them serve excellent purposes. What needs to be investigated is the relationship of the original design of the donor to the expenditures of his money by self-perpetuating boards of trustees, directed by the hired help.

Paul Hoffman has about $25,000,000 a year of Henry Ford's money to spend. What actual control is exercised over that expenditure? Who has the final voice? Too much money is at stake to leave to the discretion of a few hired men. The public has an interest in the matter, too. They bought the flivvers which made it possible to establish this Foundation. They want to be sure that it serves America.

INFORMATION FOR PARENTS

When parents first notice that their child has a squint—strabismus—they may have visions of his appearance when he attains school age and has to meet thoughtless playmates or, when older, of the inferiority complex he may develop because of his eye defect. Added to this is the unsound and conflicting advice and predictions of friends and neighbors regarding the treating that is needed — no operation, just eye exercises, the wearing of glasses to strengthen the weak eye and weaken the strong eye, deferring operation till school age or puberty age.

Because of all this anxiety and confusion, parents should know that now oculists (eye specialists and eye surgeons) can do wonderful things in correcting squint. There should be no need for worry, except that parents may have an anxious time between treatments, medical or surgical.

In Modern Medicine of Canada, Dr. Joseph C. Hill, department of ophthalmology, University of Toronto, faculty of medicine, attending ophthalmologist, Toronto General Hospital, states that when a mother visits the family physician or children's specialist and asks, "what shall I do? My child's eyes have started to turn," the little patient should be directed to an ophthalmologist immediately, even at the age of two or three months. This may appear to be a very early age but observation at an early age is a great advantage to the ophthalmologist, the highest authority on the medical or surgical care of the eyes.

Dr. Hill outlines the simple home methods by which parents can give necessary help to their child at the various ages, two to three months, 18 months and five years. This helping of the child in itself does much for the parents and the child-parent relationship.

Parents naturally want to know whether an operation is necessary and, if so, at what age should it be performed.

"If the patient is over five years old and his seeing ability cannot be increased in three months, an operation is recommended for cosmetic (facial appearance) reasons."

When the squint commences at the age of two or three or younger if full correcting spectacles do not overcome the defect, operation should be carried out immediately, as the sooner operation is done in suitable cases the better the chances for a satisfactory result.

The above authoritative information should do much to relieve the anxiety and remove the natural confusion of parents regarding their child with squint.

A New Low in Frustration

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

SENATOR BLAIR MOODY

Detroit—The best way for the American people to get the full, unvarnished picture of the real issues of the presidential campaign, in my judgment, would be a series of debates on television and radio between Governor Stevenson and General Eisenhower.

This modern innovation would give the voters an opportunity to decide directly which candidate would provide the country with more competent leadership in this moment of history when our future is so dangerously at stake.

It would offer a universal education on the problems of our nation and the world, never before approached.

It would draw the issues between the parties on the level of fact, not smear.

It would give the people a chance to "know" their next president—his personality, his intellect, and his grasp of public affairs.

It would provide both candidates an equal crack at what doubtless would be the largest audience of all time, without forcing either to raise huge sums of money for the privilege of presenting their views to the people.

And it would knock the ex parte bunk out of the campaign at the very top level.

High Level Campaign

If the famous general from Kansas is matched with the great statesman from Illinois for an hour each week, perhaps from mid-September through October, the people will make the right decision November 4, and a new, high pattern will have been set for the future functioning of our democracy.

This suggestion was advanced by the writer on People's Platform, a Columbia Broadcasting System radio discussion with Sen. Allen J. Ellender, of Louisiana, on July 27, the day after the Democratic convention adjourned.

From CBS President Frank Stanton comes a letter of interest, which also cites a possible obstacle. Stanton writes:

"I am in wholehearted agreement. It is difficult to conceive of any method which would more surely contribute to the Democratic processes of full and informed participation in the election by voters."

But Stanton points out that the Federal Communications Act requires an even distribution of public-service time not alone between Democratic and Republican parties but, according to present FCC interpretations, among splinter parties as well.

"While we are in full sympathy with the principle of fairness which sec. 315 (A) is intended to vindicate," Stanton writes, "we believe its apparent frustration of so desirable a result as you suggest is the best evidence of its fatal error.

"Yet the broadcaster's license—that is, his right to stay in business—is dependent on conforming with the act. This, I believe, warrants re-examination of sec. 315 (A) with a view toward repealing it and, perhaps, substituting some less rigid provision which would remove the roadblocks to broadcasts so obviously in the public interest."

Stanton suggests action in the next congress which would "permit radio and television to play the vital role of which they are capable."

Could be Sponsored Commercially

Perhaps some change in law is in order. But when congress meets, this campaign will be over. An informal check at FCC indicates a more immediate way might be found around the obstacle.

There are already a number of nationally televised, nationally sponsored programs which specialize in precisely this type of matching of facts, wits, and grasp of the issues. Nearly all senators and many congressmen have participated.

While the standard 30-minute time often runs out before issues have been adequately clarified, a series of hour-long discussions, running over perhaps six weeks, could be conducted with complete fairness.

It would be hard to imagine that the managers of any of these programs would object to finding themselves suddenly with two such distinguished participants. A rescheduling putting two such 30-minute pieces end-to-end, to provide the full hour, should not be insuperable. It would, of course, be a windfall for the sponsors of the programs, who, under this system, would pick up the check, but no larger a check than they meet weekly anyhow for less distinguished guests.

The nation has never forgotten the Lincoln-Douglas debates, though in proportion few could hear them. In the television age, we all could look in. An Eisenhower-Stevenson series of radio-TV debates could be the deciding factor November 4.

Left-Wing Elements Attempt to Put Eisenhower on Record Regarding Nominees

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 22—Having nearly wrecked the Democratic party in the south by means of the "loyalty pledge" device, the "left wingers" now are attempting to get the Republican nominee, General Eisenhower, to put himself on record as refusing to support certain nominees for the Senate and House in the Republican primaries who happen to hold different views from his own on public questions.

The so-called "loyalty" rule which was adopted at the Democratic National Convention at the behest of the "left wingers" required the delegates—even before the nominees were selected for prsident and vice president—to affirm that they would support the ticket. But in the present case of a Republican senator, spokesmen in the press for the "left wing" elements have been calling on General Eisenhower to say in advance of the Republican primary in Wisconsin that he will not support whoever is nominated but only the nominee who conforms to his views. For a presidential nominee, when in a given state, to refuse to ask for the election of the Republican ticket is to be guilty of disloyalty to a party-primary selection.

Fortunately, General Eisenhower has not fallen for any such booby trap. He is likely, on the contrary, to say that he will support the nominees of any Republican primary or convention in any state of the union where Republicans are nominated. To do otherwise is to set up the rule that the party nominee for president has a veto power on the kind of nominees selected by the states and that, if the whim suits him, he can be disloyal to such nominees and to the people who voted to choose the nominees. Maybe what will be offered hereafter at both national conventions is a reciprocal "loyalty pledge" that not only pledges the delegates to support the nominees for president and vice president but also commits the presidential and vice-presidential nominees to support the nominees for the Senate and House chosen in the primaries or by lawfully conducted state conventions.

The cases which have stirred up the issue are, of course, those of Senators McCarthy of Wisconsin and Jenner of Indiana. The latter is known to differ with General Eisenhower on international policies, and the former has long been the target of the "left-wingers." They are really not so much incensed over the instances in which Senator McCarthy has misfired but are smarting under the criticism that has come to the so-called "liberals" because in their ranks have been found some proved Communists and traitors to the United States.

Almost never do the "Left Wingers" denounce Alger Hiss for lying in his testimony by claiming he was not a Communist, and almost never do they denounce men like Lee Pressman, who has admitted in public testimony that in the many years he was guiding the CIO as its chief counsel he was a member of the Communist party and of a Communist cell.

None of the discovered cases seems to interest the "Left Wingers" or their publications very much, but, if they can destroy Senator McCarthy, they think they can next go after Senator McCarran, Democrat, and others who are not being intimidated by their tactics—men who are courageously exposing Communist activities among the "Left Wingers" in America.

Senator McCarthy deserves the severest condemnation for making unsupported charges against General Marshall's handling of international policies, but the late Senator La Follette, before and during World War 1, was just as bitter in his attacks on public men, including the President of the United States. Since he happened to be a "liberal," he was rarely denounced by his own kind and, even after his wild charges had been aired, he was nevertheless re-elected to the Senate by the people of Wisconsin and hailed subsequently even by President Truman as a great public servant.

The right of a United States senator to say what he pleases always has been a right which true liberals were ready virtually to lay down their lives to sustain, but today the "thought control" habit has become imbedded so deeply that the "Left Wingers" are openly asking the Republican nominee to go so far as to repudiate the selection by two sovereign states of their nominees for the Senate just because it is assumed that for the presidential nominee to support such primary selections of the states, is to endorse the views of those senators.

Presidents like Wilson and Roosevelt and Truman have tried to "purge" members of their own party by opposing them in the primaries. Almost without exception, the people have resented such interference, as they will resent it in Wisconsin and Indiana. But the real purpose undoubtedly is to harass Eisenhower. Presumably the "Left Wingers" feel they have a right to perpetrate a bit of mischief against a candidate they are opposing anyway. They unquestionably have that right in politics, but full exposure of its implications may at least open the eyes of the people generally to the symptoms of totalitarianism which the younger members of the Democratic party are revealing in their concepts of party regularity, loyalty and discipline.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The National Labor Relations Board has ordered a manufacturer in Boston engaged in the production of secret electronic devices for the army, navy and air force to reinstate a workman with a criminal record who denied that he had ever been convicted of a crime in his application for his job. The employe is John S. Stabins, a renegade Boston policeman who robbed a liquor store while on duty in uniform in 1940, was convicted by a jury, sent to prison for three months and canned from the force.

Stabins was not restored to his defense factory job. He did get $355.20 back pay. But, in a transaction having the charasteristics of a shakedown by an official agency of the federal government, in favor of a union, he agreed in writing to "resign" and waived his claim to the job. This was a deal under the table.

In addition to the penalty of $355.20, Photoswitch, Inc., the defendant company, was forced to sign an abject, humiliating admission of wrongdoing in dismissing a convicted fiduciary after he had lied in his application, and to post this admission on the bulletin board. This document, dictated by the Labor Relations Board, said: "Notice to all employes: Pursuant to the recommendations of a trial examiner * * * We Will Not discourage membership in the International Union of Electrical Radio and Machine Workers, CIO, * * * by discriminatorily discharging or refusing to reinstate any of our employes." And the duncecap order further said: "We will offer to John S. Stabins immediate and full reinstatement without prejudice to his seniority or other rights and privileges and we will make him whole for loss of pay."

The tenor of the notice is characteristic and a hardy survival of the pioneer days of this vicious bureau under the original New Deal Communists who later were made notorious by congressional expose. The Communist purpose was to exalt the tax-exempt, predatory union racket over taxpaying, law-paying business firms of unquentioned loyalty to the United States. Then, as now, many of the union executives were traitorous adherents to the Muscovite treason.

The duncecap order closed with a bottom line which read: "This notice must remain posted for 60 days from date hereof and must not be altered, defaced or covered by any other material."

The final disposition, holding Photoswitch guilty of discrimination against this thief and liar in a plant covered by special "security" measures was signed by Paul M. Herzog, chairman, and John M. Houston and Abe Murdock, lame duck congressmen, members of the board. Herzog is the man who created an unbearable situation which forced Robert N. Denham to resign his job as general counsel of the board when Denham insisted on strict adherence to the Taft-Hartley law. His resignation created a vacancy for Ida Klaus, a niece of David Dubinsky, the perpetual president-dictator of the Garment Workers Union. Miss Klaus's interpretation of the law has been satisfactory to the board.

Stabins was a cop from 1919 to 1940. In his application for work at Photoswitch he said he had no police record. Had he admitted his record he would have been turned down.

Edmund J. Blake, the company's lawyer, a specialist in these brace-game Labor Board jobs, bore down on the fact that Stabins signed his name just below a line warning him that "any misrepresentation" would be sufficient cause for dismissal. Mr. Blake argued that if Stabins were upheld just because he had joined a union, no criminal, however dangerous, could be denied a job or fired provided he bestirred himself in union activity. This has been the rule nevertheless for many years and many vicious criminals enjoyed its protection

FLUORIDATION OF WATER SUPPLY

Mayor Newkirk in a recent communication to the Commissioners of the Kingston Water Department requests that the members of the board take favorable action on the fluoridation of the city water supply.

In requesting favorable action by the board in this matter, the mayor bases his judgment on the report of State Health Commissioner Herman Hilleboe, which states that tooth decay among elementary school pupils in Newburgh dropped 47 per cent below the Kingston rate in eight years. Newburgh children have been drinking fluoridated water since the start of a state experiment while no fluorine was added to Kingston water. The report covered the period from 1944 through the middle of 1952.

Dr. Hilleboe also has reported that among children who had drunk fluoridated water since birth, the drop in dental decay was even greater—66 per cent below Kingston.

A very important part of the state health commissioner's report is the claim that after careful examination during the Kingston-Newburgh survey "absolutely no harmful effects from drinking fluoridated water were revealed."

This is of importance because The Freeman has published a number of communications from critics of the program to add fluoride compounds to our drinking water. These opponents claim that fluoridation of our drinking water at this time is a calculated risk as there is no actual scientific experiment to date which will prove that no harm will come to the older segment of the population, particularly those with kidney disease, diabetis, tuberculosis, etc.

Also included in the critics' stand are toxic effect, cost factor, legal aspect and hazards involved.

Those in favor point to the health commissioners' report that there is "absolutely no harmful effects from drinking fluoridated water" and also that this means of fighting tooth decay is simplicity itself.

Any adult who himself has suffered from tooth decay would go to considerable length to spare his children from the same costly discomfort.

The extent of tooth decay in this country is well illustrated by the high number of men turned down for military service because of it.

The Kingston Water Board Commissioners undoubtedly have rounded up all the facts necessary to an informed decision and will render that decision in the very near future.

A MATTER OF COMFORT

Most Army and Air Force bases demand high standards of neatness in dress from their personnel. Soldiers are expected to wear their uniforms proudly and that means shined shoes, shined belts, pressed, well tailored uniforms and hats set at the proper military angle. Many an ex-G.I. remembers the agony of being "properly dressed" at some of the warmer bases where the comfort of the troops was a secondary consideration to the demands of the officer in charge who refused to permit so much as a loosened necktie.

The Air Force has now ruled that its men may wear khaki shirts without neckties. The absence of ties will permit observers to see that the airmen wear white T-shirts. Air Force officials say that this is all right.

It is a sound idea for the services to consider the comfort of the men in uniform since comfort plays a large part in morale. How the idea will rest with old school army officers and non-coms is another matter. Many an old colonel is likely to get hot under his collar when the enlisted men become cooler under theirs. And many an old sergeant will have a hard time keeping his shirt on when he sees a private loosening his blouse.

Youngsters who protest Saturday night's scrubbing sessions might as well give up. The United States now possesses ninety-two per cent of the world's bathtubs.

There is supposed to be safety in numbers, but hardly so on a Sunday afternoon along the highways. The greater the number of cars the easier should be the foot on the gas pedal.

THE FOUNDATIONS

A Congressional committee, headed by Representative Eugene Cox of Georgia, is now engaged in an investigation of the Foundations, a vast reservoir of dead men's money and a terrifying power in this country. It needs to be noted that many Foundations are organized by men still alive and by corporations as a device to do good instead of paying taxes. There are about 10,000 Foundations, large and small, and their funds run to more than $3,000,000,000.

The startling fact about some of the Foundations, particularly the larger ones, is that while they are founded by such capitalists as John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie, Julius Rosenwald and latterly Henry Ford, in time the help hired to run them have grown powerful and wilful and expend the money on causes which would have offended the benefactors were they alive to see it.

Henry Ford, for instance, made nearly all his money in this country, but Paul Hoffman, who is spending that money, seems to prefer to pour it into remote bottomless pits and to expend it for meaningless purposes, such as an investigation as to why the world is full of refugees, when, as a matter of fact, it always has been. That is how you and I and Paul Hoffman probably came to be born in this country.

In the matter of the Foundations, Cox will be able to begin with at least two proved facts, namely, Alger Hiss' presidency of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the relations of the Carnegie and Rockefeller Foundations to the Institute of Pacific Relations. With regard to the former, Cox can begin where the courts ended; with regard to the latter, he has the McCarran Committee reports to guide him.

William Fulton, who made a study of the Foundations for the "American Legion Magazine," makes this very interesting point:

"How do the Stalinites and their stooges dip their buckets into the Foundation pool?

It is possible to trace in the histories of some of the most notorious leftists in this country through the grants given them by the Foundations, as, for instance, Hanns Eisler, who was a known Communist before the Rockefeller Foundation aided him.

One of the most puzzling of all Foundations is the Guggenheim, set up by United States Senator Simon Guggenheim, a Republican and conservative. It is startling to note how many Communists and lefists have received grants from this particular Foundation, running between $2,500 and $3,000.

It would be unwise and not beneficial to abolish the Foundations. Many of them serve excellent purposes. What needs to be investigated is the relationship of the original design of the donor to the expenditures of his money by self-perpetuating boards of trustees, directed by the hired help.

Paul Hoffman has about $25,000,000 a year of Henry Ford's money to spend. What actual control is exercised over that expenditure? Who has the final voice? Too much money is at stake to leave to the discretion of a few hired men. The public has an interest in the matter, too. They bought the flivvers which made it possible to establish this Foundation. They want to be sure that it serves America.

It would offer a universal education on the problems of our nation and the world, never before approached.

It would draw the issues between the parties on the level of fact, not smear.

It would give the people a chance to "know" their next president—his personality, his intellect, and his grasp of public affairs.

It would provide both candidates an equal crack at what doubtless would be the largest audience of all time, without forcing either to raise huge sums of money for the privilege of presenting their views to the people.

And it would knock the ex parte bunk out of the campaign at the very top level.

High Level Campaign

If the famous general from Kansas is matched with the great statesman from Illinois for an hour each week, perhaps from mid-September through October, the people will make the right decision November 4, and a new, high pattern will have been set for the future functioning of our democracy.

This suggestion was advanced by the writer on People's Platform, a Columbia Broadcasting System radio discussion with Sen. Allen J. Ellender, of Louisiana, on July 27, the day after the Democratic convention adjourned.

From CBS President Frank Stanton comes a letter of interest, which also cites a possible obstacle. Stanton writes:

"I am in wholehearted agreement. It is difficult to conceive of any method which would more surely contribute to the Democratic processes of full and informed participation in the election by voters."

But Stanton points out that the Federal Communications Act requires an even distribution of public-service time not alone between Democratic and Republican parties but, according to present FCC interpretations, among splinter parties as well.

"While we are in full sympathy with the principle of fairness which sec. 315 (A) is intended to vindicate," Stanton writes, "we believe its apparent frustration of so desirable a result as you suggest is the best evidence of its fatal error.

"Yet the broadcaster's license—that is, his right to stay in business—is dependent on conforming with the act. This, I believe, warrants re-examination of sec. 315 (A) with a view toward repealing it and, perhaps, substituting some less rigid provision which would remove the roadblocks to broadcasts so obviously in the public interest."

Stanton suggests action in the next congress which would "permit radio and television to play the vital role of which they are capable."

Could be Sponsored Commercially

Perhaps some change in law is in order. But when congress meets, this campaign will be over. An informal check at FCC indicates a more immediate way might be found around the obstacle.

There are already a number of nationally televised, nationally sponsored programs which specialize in precisely this type of matching of facts, wits, and grasp of the issues. Nearly all senators and many congressmen have participated.

While the standard 30-minute time often runs out before issues have been adequately clarified, a series of hour-long discussions, running over perhaps six weeks, could be conducted with complete fairness.

It would be hard to imagine that the managers of any of these programs would object to finding themselves suddenly with two such distinguished participants. A rescheduling putting two such 30-minute pieces end-to-end, to provide the full hour, should not be insuperable. It would, of course, be a windfall for the sponsors of the programs, who, under this system, would pick up the check, but no larger a check than they meet weekly anyhow for less distinguished guests.

The nation has never forgotten the Lincoln-Douglas debates, though in proportion few could hear them. In the television age, we all could look in. An Eisenhower-Stevenson series of radio-TV debates could be the deciding factor November 4.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 22—Having nearly wrecked the Democratic party in the south by means of the "loyalty pledge" device, the "left wingers" now are attempting to get the Republican nominee, General Eisenhower, to put himself on record as refusing to support certain nominees for the Senate and House in the Republican primaries who happen to hold different views from his own on public questions.

The so-called "loyalty" rule which was adopted at the Democratic National Convention at the behest of the "left wingers" required the delegates—even before the nominees were selected for prsident and vice president—to affirm that they would support the ticket. But in the present case of a Republican senator, spokesmen in the press for the "left wing" elements have been calling on General Eisenhower to say in advance of the Republican primary in Wisconsin that he will not support whoever is nominated but only the nominee who conforms to his views. For a presidential nominee, when in a given state, to refuse to ask for the election of the Republican ticket is to be guilty of disloyalty to a party-primary selection.

Fortunately, General Eisenhower has not fallen for any such booby trap. He is likely, on the contrary, to say that he will support the nominees of any Republican primary or convention in any state of the union where Republicans are nominated. To do otherwise is to set up the rule that the party nominee for president has a veto power on the kind of nominees selected by the states and that, if the whim suits him, he can be disloyal to such nominees and to the people who voted to choose the nominees. Maybe what will be offered hereafter at both national conventions is a reciprocal "loyalty pledge" that not only pledges the delegates to support the nominees for president and vice president but also commits the presidential and vice-presidential nominees to support the nominees for the Senate and House chosen in the primaries or by lawfully conducted state conventions.

The cases which have stirred up the issue are, of course, those of Senators McCarthy of Wisconsin and Jenner of Indiana. The latter is known to differ with General Eisenhower on international policies, and the former has long been the target of the "left-wingers." They are really not so much incensed over the instances in which Senator McCarthy has misfired but are smarting under the criticism that has come to the so-called "liberals" because in their ranks have been found some proved Communists and traitors to the United States.

Almost never do the "Left Wingers" denounce Alger Hiss for lying in his testimony by claiming he was not a Communist, and almost never do they denounce men like Lee Pressman, who has admitted in public testimony that in the many years he was guiding the CIO as its chief counsel he was a member of the Communist party and of a Communist cell.

None of the discovered cases seems to interest the "Left Wingers" or their publications very much, but, if they can destroy Senator McCarthy, they think they can next go after Senator McCarran, Democrat, and others who are not being intimidated by their tactics—men who are courageously exposing Communist activities among the "Left Wingers" in America.

Senator McCarthy deserves the severest condemnation for making unsupported charges against General Marshall's handling of international policies, but the late Senator La Follette, before and during World War 1, was just as bitter in his attacks on public men, including the President of the United States. Since he happened to be a "liberal," he was rarely denounced by his own kind and, even after his wild charges had been aired, he was nevertheless re-elected to the Senate by the people of Wisconsin and hailed subsequently even by President Truman as a great public servant.

The right of a United States senator to say what he pleases always has been a right which true liberals were ready virtually to lay down their lives to sustain, but today the "thought control" habit has become imbedded so deeply that the "Left Wingers" are openly asking the Republican nominee to go so far as to repudiate the selection by two sovereign states of their nominees for the Senate just because it is assumed that for the presidential nominee to support such primary selections of the states, is to endorse the views of those senators.

Presidents like Wilson and Roosevelt and Truman have tried to "purge" members of their own party by opposing them in the primaries. Almost without exception, the people have resented such interference, as they will resent it in Wisconsin and Indiana. But the real purpose undoubtedly is to harass Eisenhower. Presumably the "Left Wingers" feel they have a right to perpetrate a bit of mischief against a candidate they are opposing anyway. They unquestionably have that right in politics, but full exposure of its implications may at least open the eyes of the people generally to the symptoms of totalitarianism which the younger members of the Democratic party are revealing in their concepts of party regularity, loyalty and discipline.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The National Labor Relations Board has ordered a manufacturer in Boston engaged in the production of secret electronic devices for the army, navy and air force to reinstate a workman with a criminal record who denied that he had ever been convicted of a crime in his application for his job. The employe is John S. Stabins, a renegade Boston policeman who robbed a liquor store while on duty in uniform in 1940, was convicted by a jury, sent to prison for three months and canned from the force.

Stabins was not restored to his defense factory job. He did get $355.20 back pay. But, in a transaction having the charasteristics of a shakedown by an official agency of the federal government, in favor of a union, he agreed in writing to "resign" and waived his claim to the job. This was a deal under the table.

In addition to the penalty of $355.20, Photoswitch, Inc., the defendant company, was forced to sign an abject, humiliating admission of wrongdoing in dismissing a convicted fiduciary after he had lied in his application, and to post this admission on the bulletin board. This document, dictated by the Labor Relations Board, said: "Notice to all employes: Pursuant to the recommendations of a trial examiner * * * We Will Not discourage membership in the International Union of Electrical Radio and Machine Workers, CIO, * * * by discriminatorily discharging or refusing to reinstate any of our employes." And the duncecap order further said: "We will offer to John S. Stabins immediate and full reinstatement without prejudice to his seniority or other rights and privileges and we will make him whole for loss of pay."

The tenor of the notice is characteristic and a hardy survival of the pioneer days of this vicious bureau under the original New Deal Communists who later were made notorious by congressional expose. The Communist purpose was to exalt the tax-exempt, predatory union racket over taxpaying, law-paying business firms of unquentioned loyalty to the United States. Then, as now, many of the union executives were traitorous adherents to the Muscovite treason.

The duncecap order closed with a bottom line which read: "This notice must remain posted for 60 days from date hereof and must not be altered, defaced or covered by any other material."

The final disposition, holding Photoswitch guilty of discrimination against this thief and liar in a plant covered by special "security" measures was signed by Paul M. Herzog, chairman, and John M. Houston and Abe Murdock, lame duck congressmen, members of the board. Herzog is the man who created an unbearable situation which forced Robert N. Denham to resign his job as general counsel of the board when Denham insisted on strict adherence to the Taft-Hartley law. His resignation created a vacancy for Ida Klaus, a niece of David Dubinsky, the perpetual president-dictator of the Garment Workers Union. Miss Klaus's interpretation of the law has been satisfactory to the board.

Stabins was a cop from 1919 to 1940. In his application for work at Photoswitch he said he had no police record. Had he admitted his record he would have been turned down.

Edmund J. Blake, the company's lawyer, a specialist in these brace-game Labor Board jobs, bore down on the fact that Stabins signed his name just below a line warning him that "any misrepresentation" would be sufficient cause for dismissal. Mr. Blake argued that if Stabins were upheld just because he had joined a union, no criminal, however dangerous, could be denied a job or fired provided he bestirred himself in union activity. This has been the rule nevertheless for many years and many vicious criminals enjoyed its protection

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 22—I am bothered by the very unfortunate attitude we have developed recently toward sales and salesmen. Successful selling is the keystone of free enterprise and the selling profession must be revitalized for the good of our economy as a whole.

A recent FORTUNE magazine poll of mothers' attitudes toward selling as a career indicated that most mothers want their sons to become anything but salesmen! These mothers have the idea that a product should sell itself on its own merits; that there is something degrading about selling. In short, the idea of selling is revolting to many of them. I believe FORTUNE is wrong.

I wonder how many persons were unfavorably influenced by the movie "Death of a Salesman." It is tragic that Willy Loman, the leading character of the play, was ever tagged a salesman. One critic discussing the film had this to say: "The salesman, not as a commercial group, but as a social type engaged in many different careers, is a man who produces nothing, has creative contact with no object, and is in truth the epitome of the taker . . ." This charge that salesmen are parasites is a pretty serious accusation.

Salesmen Lost Ground

Immediately following the war years, many over-age sales personnel retired. The young men taken on were given a bad start. They didn't have to sell because they didn't have anything to sell. The competition was among the buyers, not the sellers; so they never really learned to sell. It wasn't their fault; they were simply products of the times.

Unfortunately, the few opportunists among them gave the profession a black eye. Too many families, desperate for a roof over their heads, were fleeced by overzealous real estate salesmen. Too many are fed up with the attention they never got from certain salesmen of automobiles, electrical appliances, televisions, furniture, and the like during the postwar era of shortages. Too many people have had to do the salesman's job for themselves for so long that they have become wrongly prejudiced against selling as a career.

Important to Free Enterprise

People haven't been buying. Reports of more than 500 companies for the first quarter of 1952, compared with 1951, showed profits off anywhere from 61% in textiles, to 30% in paper, to 17% in electrical equipment. Obviously, some of this loss is due to increased taxation. But the real reason is that people aren't buying. And they're not buying because they are not being properly sold.

Seasoned management should have learned out of these two hectic years since June, 1950, that our country has the phenomenal ability to produce both war material and consumer goods simultaneously and in abundance. Obviously, this is good for people because once again this means sharp competition. Competition means more efficiency and lower prices. Lower prices mean a higher standard of living for more people.

A Great Future

In order for free enterprise to remain healthy, it must have not only the ability to produce, but also the ability to sell what it produces. Business remains good only when there is a demand for goods and services. It is up to the newspapers and salesmen to create the demand and provide the stimulus for sales. Good advertising and good salesmanship are basic to our prosperity and to our way of life.

The advertising and selling professions hold a great future for usefulness, satisfaction, and unlimited opportunity for the youth of our land. Those entering the advertising profession should, however, remember that they will never get far by merely writing "good copy";—they must sell it and get some prospective advertiser to use it. Advertising needs good salesmen as well as do real estate, automobiles and refrigerators.

Grueling Stock-Car Competition Proves

HUDSON

BEST BY FAR!

AS YOU know, it is impossible for a prospective buyer to accurately judge the relative merits of various cars through a casual examination or on the basis of claims.

Therefore, smart buyers are taking advantage of the record established in stock-car racing which affords an impartial test of the important features of competitive makes—features which largely determine owner satisfaction. In this rough, tough competition between cars just like you can buy from dealers, every make of car is compared for power, durability and safety—vital qualities in your daily driving.

With 30 victories in 34 starts already this year, Hudson proves it has these great qualities in measures no other car can match!

Hudson's rugged high-compression engines are famous for terrific power and performance. But more important, only Hudson has "step-down" design with America's lowest center of gravity. A Hudson hugs the road like it loves it and almost steers itself. Monobilt body-and-frame* is the most durable, safest known!

Visit us and try a Hudson, or if more convenient, phone and a Hudson will come to your door.

NEW "WATCHDOG" BASES FOR WEST — The Western powers are setting up two important new bases in Turkey and Greece. As shown on Newsmap, they will anchor defenses of the northeastern Mediterranean region fronting on Russia. Izmir, Turkey, better known as Smyrna, will be the headquarters for the new Southeastern Europe Command. Salonika, main city of northern Greece, will become interim air headquarters for the eastern Mediterranean approaches. The new bases bracket the Dardanelles.

Bear Kills Calf

Thessalon, Canada (AP)—Farmers are ready to shoot bears on sight in this area 60 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Russell Currie was recently herding his cows when a black bear jumped from a hiding place, killed a calf and ripped open a cow's skull.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 22—I am bothered by the very unfortunate attitude we have developed recently toward sales and salesmen. Successful selling is the keystone of free enterprise and the selling profession must be revitalized for the good of our economy as a whole.

A recent FORTUNE magazine poll of mothers' attitudes toward selling as a career indicated that most mothers want their sons to become anything but salesmen! These mothers have the idea that a product should sell itself on its own merits; that there is something degrading about selling. In short, the idea of selling is revolting to many of them. I believe FORTUNE is wrong.

I wonder how many persons were unfavorably influenced by the movie "Death of a Salesman." It is tragic that Willy Loman, the leading character of the play, was ever tagged a salesman. One critic discussing the film had this to say: "The salesman, not as a commercial group, but as a social type engaged in many different careers, is a man who produces nothing, has creative contact with no object, and is in truth the epitome of the taker . . ." This charge that salesmen are parasites is a pretty serious accusation.

Salesmen Lost Ground

Immediately following the war years, many over-age sales personnel retired. The young men taken on were given a bad start. They didn't have to sell because they didn't have anything to sell. The competition was among the buyers, not the sellers; so they never really learned to sell. It wasn't their fault; they were simply products of the times.

Unfortunately, the few opportunists among them gave the profession a black eye. Too many families, desperate for a roof over their heads, were fleeced by overzealous real estate salesmen. Too many are fed up with the attention they never got from certain salesmen of automobiles, electrical appliances, televisions, furniture, and the like during the postwar era of shortages. Too many people have had to do the salesman's job for themselves for so long that they have become wrongly prejudiced against selling as a career.

Important to Free Enterprise

People haven't been buying. Reports of more than 500 companies for the first quarter of 1952, compared with 1951, showed profits off anywhere from 61% in textiles, to 30% in paper, to 17% in electrical equipment. Obviously, some of this loss is due to increased taxation. But the real reason is that people aren't buying. And they're not buying because they are not being properly sold.

Seasoned management should have learned out of these two hectic years since June, 1950, that our country has the phenomenal ability to produce both war material and consumer goods simultaneously and in abundance. Obviously, this is good for people because once again this means sharp competition. Competition means more efficiency and lower prices. Lower prices mean a higher standard of living for more people.

A Great Future

In order for free enterprise to remain healthy, it must have not only the ability to produce, but also the ability to sell what it produces. Business remains good only when there is a demand for goods and services. It is up to the newspapers and salesmen to create the demand and provide the stimulus for sales. Good advertising and good salesmanship are basic to our prosperity and to our way of life.

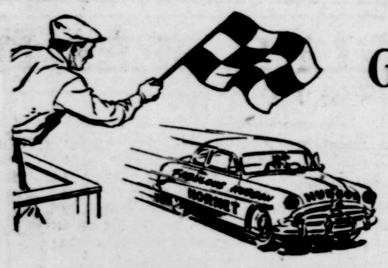

The advertising and selling professions hold a great future for usefulness, satisfaction, and unlimited opportunity for the youth of our land. Those entering the advertising profession should, however, remember that they will never get far by merely writing "good copy";—they must sell it and get some prospective advertiser to use it. Advertising needs good salesmen as well as do real estate, automobiles and refrigerators.

Grueling Stock-Car Competition Proves

HUDSON

BEST BY FAR!

AS YOU know, it is impossible for a prospective buyer to accurately judge the relative merits of various cars through a casual examination or on the basis of claims.

Therefore, smart buyers are taking advantage of the record established in stock-car racing which affords an impartial test of the important features of competitive makes—features which largely determine owner satisfaction. In this rough, tough competition between cars just like you can buy from dealers, every make of car is compared for power, durability and safety—vital qualities in your daily driving.

With 30 victories in 34 starts already this year, Hudson proves it has these great qualities in measures no other car can match!

Hudson's rugged high-compression engines are famous for terrific power and performance. But more important, only Hudson has "step-down" design with America's lowest center of gravity. A Hudson hugs the road like it loves it and almost steers itself. Monobilt body-and-frame* is the most durable, safest known!

Visit us and try a Hudson, or if more convenient, phone and a Hudson will come to your door.

If South had played today's hand properly, I would not be writing about it. But even though South did flub it pretty badly, East still had to make the right play to defeat the slam contract.

West opened a club and South won with the king. He should have led the king of hearts at once. If the opponents took this trick, South would be able to draw trumps ending in dummy, and discard all of his losers on dummy's established hearts.

If the defenders refused this trick, South could draw three rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and lead the queen of hearts from dummy. He would then make all thirteen tricks.

As it happened, however, South won the first trick with the king of clubs and immediately drew three rounds of trumps. This was a fantastic error, but it was actually made by an experienced player at a tournament. I am sure that most of my readers see similar mistakes from time to time.

After this horrible beginning, South led the king of hearts, announcing: "You can't get better than a king for your ace!" This little speech had no effect on Elaine Landy, who held the East cards.

Mrs. Landy has been playing bridge for only a few months, but she has already learned not to believe everything an opponent says. (This was probably the first thing she learned from her husband, Alvin Landy, who is general manager of the American Contract Bridge League and also one of the best bridge players in the country.)

Mrs. Landy thought the situation over carefully and refused to take her ace of hearts. Now South was, of course, a cherished pelican. He would not lose a heart trick, but no matter how he struggled, he was bound to lose two clubs.

Would Restore Status

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said today he may sponsor legislation to restore the rank of five-star general for Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential candidate, after the election Nov. 4. An aide of Smathers told a reporter the senator is considering the proposal on the assumption that Eisenhower will be defeated for president.

Study Military Strength

Fort Bragg, N. C., Aug. 22 (AP)—Military attaches from 37 countries continued their study of America's armed might at this vast military base today. The visiting officers, headed by Lt. Gen. Danilo Lekico of Yugoslavia, saw 3,000 paratroopers of the 82nd Division hit the silk yesterday in a mass parachute drop demonstration.

If South had played today's hand properly, I would not be writing about it. But even though South did flub it pretty badly, East still had to make the right play to defeat the slam contract.

West opened a club and South won with the king. He should have led the king of hearts at once. If the opponents took this trick, South would be able to draw trumps ending in dummy, and discard all of his losers on dummy's established hearts.

If the defenders refused this trick, South could draw three rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and lead the queen of hearts from dummy. He would then make all thirteen tricks.

As it happened, however, South won the first trick with the king of clubs and immediately drew three rounds of trumps. This was a fantastic error, but it was actually made by an experienced player at a tournament. I am sure that most of my readers see similar mistakes from time to time.

After this horrible beginning, South led the king of hearts, announcing: "You can't get better than a king for your ace!" This little speech had no effect on Elaine Landy, who held the East cards.

Mrs. Landy has been playing bridge for only a few months, but she has already learned not to believe everything an opponent says. (This was probably the first thing she learned from her husband, Alvin Landy, who is general manager of the American Contract Bridge League and also one of the best bridge players in the country.)

Mrs. Landy thought the situation over carefully and refused to take her ace of hearts. Now South was, of course, a cherished pelican. He would not lose a heart trick, but no matter how he struggled, he was bound to lose two clubs.

Would Restore Status

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said today he may sponsor legislation to restore the rank of five-star general for Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential candidate, after the election Nov. 4. An aide of Smathers told a reporter the senator is considering the proposal on the assumption that Eisenhower will be defeated for president.

Study Military Strength

New Paltz Is Preparing for Big Influx Of Visitors to Tour Stone Houses August 26

A large influx of visitors is anticipated by members of the Dutch Reformed Church of New Paltz on Stone House Day, Tuesday, Aug. 26, when stone houses over 200 years old, built by French Huguenots who fled the persecution of Louis XIV, will be opened to the public.

Dressed in colorful period costumes, members of the church will conduct guided tours through the historic buildings on old Huguenot street, from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served by the Kerk League and a picnic supper will be provided by the Dutch Guild.

Founded in 1677

Clustered on a grassy ridge overlooking the winding Wallkill river, the sturdy stone houses are among the earliest French colonial buildings in America. New Paltz was founded by French Huguenots who first escaped to Germany and settled at Pfalz-on-the-Rhine. Lured by the freedom of America, they crossed the Atlantic and sailed up the Hudson river to what is today the city of Kingston. Moving still further north they traversed the river which empties into the Hudson and established a permanent colony in the fertile valley of the Wallkill river.

Their log cabins, built 100 years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, were gradually replaced by more enduring houses of stone. One of these, the home of Abraham Hasbrouck, was built in 1712 by the grandfather of Colonel Jonathan Hasbrouck who built Washington's headquarters at Newburgh. The rough stone walls of the Hasbrouck house are topped by a high steep roof of mediaeval flavor. The huge stone kitchen was famous for cockfighting in colonial days.

Refuge of Hospitality

The Fort at New Paltz, built in 1705, never saw active military duty but it did serve as a refuge of hospitality for the entire community. Churchgoing farmers clad in homespun rode in from the countryside on cold winter Sundays, stopping at the Fort to fill their foot-stoves with glowing coals from the fireplace.

Across Huguenot street from the Fort stands the Bevier-Elting house built in 1698 by Louis Bevier. Used as a store during Revolutionary days, the house is set off by a window with twenty-eight panes of glass over the front door. Stepping through the door, the modern visitor can see unchanged the surroundings of colonial life 250 years ago. Nearby stands the Elting house with its curiously contrived sub-cellar, an inner sanctum where choice liquors were kept safe from pilfering slaves.

Area Features

High above the ensemble of stone houses on old Huguenot street stand the Shawangunk Mountains with their patchwork sides of cultivated fields and their rugged crown of rocks. Boating, swimming and fishing may be enjoyed at nearby Lake Mohonk which lives up to its Indian name of Water in the Sky. Fed by cold mountain springs, its blue waters are securely held in the deep pockets of the Shawangunk Mountains. At Skytop, 1500 feet above sea level, the visitor can look down on Rondout valley with range upon range of the Catskills in the distance. On the other side is the winding Wallkill river and beyond are outlined the bluffs on either side of the Hudson river.

Only eight miles from the outskirts of Poughkeepsie, New Paltz can be reached by taking Route 55 skirt of Poughkeepsie, New Paltz Hudson river to Route 299 leading into New Paltz.

Wooden Shoe Nursery Taking Enrollments

The fall term of the Wooden Shoe Nursery School, 32 Main street, will begin Sept. 2. The school, this year, will be taught by Mrs. Samuel Gally and Mrs. Samuel Martin, who have conducted the Greenkill Camp for children. Both have long been identified with the work of directing the activities of children. The school is sponsored by the Old Dutch Church. It is non-sectarian and is open to boys and girls of pre-school age. Enrollments are now being taken in the church office, 272 Wall street. Both morning and afternoon sessions are held.

Included in these sessions are a rest period, a light lunch, subjects of interest in relation to age and also a recreation period. The school is conducted on a level suggested by the New York state educational authorities.

The new uptown post office which is to be built nearby will not interfere with the school in any way, it has been pointed out, and a special allowance will be available to mothers who wish to participate in the work of the school.

Local Amateur Artist Wins Twilight Award

An oil painting, Winter Scene, exhibited by Mrs. Irma Becker Dudyk, 144 St. James street, was awarded third prize in the Landscapes in Oil class of the sixth annual exhibit of paintings sponsored by Twilight Park Artists which opened last Saturday in Twilight Park.

Twenty-nine artists from this city, Twilight Park, Woodstock, Philadelphia Hill, East Jewett, New Jersey, Virginia, and other locations, were represented with 89 paintings.

The local amateur artist, who studied with Harry Roth of New York and Sawkill, has previously exhibited only in class shows held in the Kingston library. The recent award is the first she has received.

Erwin H. Austin and Alice Pauline Schafer, noted artists of the Albany area, comprised the jury of awards.

SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW—Bridal customs of the East and West meet during the London wedding of Mary Martha San Yan Lo and Kai Yin Chau. Dressed in conventional white, the bride tosses her bouquet to her bridesmaids, top, to follow a Western custom. Below, she is seen in Chinese bridal gown heavily embroidered with gold and silver as she follows the ancient Chinese rite by offering tea to her father-in-law, Dr. S. N. Chau of Hongkong, China. The bride, an American citizen, met her husband at Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

150 Students From Several Countries Will Convene in West Shokan for Hillel Institute

An estimated 150 college and university students from the United States, Canada, the University of Havana, Cuba, and England are expected to attend the annual institute of Hillel Foundations at Camp High Point, West Ashokan, Aug. 26 through Sept. 1.

Founded in 1843

Hillel Foundations, campus organizations for Jewish students, are similar to Newman Clubs for Catholic students and various Protestant campus groups. They are named after the great Hebrew sage who lived during the period of Christ and was known for his great understanding heart and modern approach. The foundations constitute one of the major departments of B'nai B'rith—"Sons of the Covenant"—founded in this country in 1843.

The institute, to be held for the sixth consecutive year at Camp High Point, is planned as a period of training, inspiration and information for next year's student leaders.

Noted Speakers

Among those who will address the students during the institute are Dr. Arthur Lelyveld, national director of Hillel Foundations, whose office is in New York; and Dr. Abram L. Sacher, president of Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass. Other leading educators, writers and Hillel directors will also be present.

The eight-day conference will include discussions, lectures, the editing of a daily newspaper, presentation of program materials, fun and fellowship.

Hillel Foundations are, devoted to sustaining religious interest on campuses. Many offer counseling services, loan funds, and promote inter-faith activities.

To Make Technicolor Record

This year, for the first time, it is expected that a crew of professional moving picture men will visit the institute to make a technicolor record of the institute.

E. H. Sonnenreich is director of Camp High Point.

Rochester Church Plans Annual Event

The fourth annual "Lord's Acre" sale, supper and auction sponsored by the Rochester Reformed Church of Accord will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, on the church lawn.

The sale of handmade articles and homemade foods to be displayed in attractive booths will be open to the public at 2 p. m. The supper will begin at 5 p. m. and continue until all are served.

One of the highlights of the day will be the auction at 7 p. m. This will include livestock, poultry, fancy articles, baked goods, garden produce, furniture and other items.

Van Dyke Honored at Party

A farewell party was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Dyke, 30 Tompkins street, for their son, George Van Dyke, Jr., who is going back into service. There were 42 guests present, and many farewell gifts were presented.

INTRODUCING NEW SECRETARY

A reader explains: "Last week a new secretary was hired into a department which consists of all men. The day she came in one of the men was out of town and when he came in several days later, one of the men introduced her to him. Upon introduction, she arose from her desk and shook hands with him. Will you please tell me if this was the proper thing to do? I always thought a woman remained seated when introduced to a man."

Under most circumstances, especially social ones, a lady does not rise when a gentleman is introduced to her—unless he is a notable personage. In the office scene that you depict the impression given is that he was a person of importance, she a young newcomer—her rising was definitely proper. But she should have waited for him to offer his hand, in welcome to her—a new employe.

Removing Used Dishes

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to remove used dishes from the table when there is no maid? A friend of mine always scoops any food left on the plates into one plate and then stacks the dishes one on top of the other and removes them all at the same time. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

Answer: The picture of stacking plates—as you present it—is very unappetizing! Correctly whoever clears the table should carry two plates at a time (one in each hand) out to the kitchen. And then carry out the remaining dishes.

Party for Husband

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband will be coming home on furlough from Korea next month and I would like very much to give a party for him. Will you please tell me what kind of party would be suitable to give for a man, and also please tell me how the invitations should be worded.

Answer: Surely you must know what sort of a party he most enjoys! Your invitations could read: "John is coming home on furlough. Do come in on the evening of....."

* * *

Some readers have written that they find introductions of family and friends confusing. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," will be helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Local Sunflower Patch Has Stalk 15 Feet in Height

Mrs. Harold Middaugh of 178 Fairview avenue purchased 10 cents worth of sunflower seeds about two months ago and planted them.

Today she has a number of gigantic stalks in her backyard, three of them over 11 feet tall and one that Mrs. Middaugh estimates at close to 15 feet.

In the New York Daily News of August 19 there was a picture of a sunflower grown in Minneapolis, Minn., 11 feet high and expected to grow "another foot," but Mrs. Middaugh has it beaten easily.

Mrs. Middaugh said today that she feels the height of her sunflower patch is particularly appropriate and timely in view of the fact that Kingston is celebrating its 300th anniversary this year.

Connelly Bride-Elect Honored at Shower

In attendance were Mmes. Tracy Elliott, Hugh Clark, Jr., Asa Rider, William Miller, Francis O'Donnell, Farrell McElrath, Samuel Pepper, Robert Mosher, Raymond Steward, John Amarello, Warren Schoonmaker, Fred Seegar, Robert Schwenk and Kathryn Kennedy.

Also, the Misses Roberta Cockburn, Rose Clark, Bernice Edge, Muriel Hoyt, Alma Rider, Esther Ausanio, Shirley Berean, Eleanor Fisher, May Bowcock, Betty Wagner and Sharon Leaycraft.

KHS Senior to Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Charles DuBois of 56 Murray street announce the engagement of their daughter, Renee, to Airman Basic, William Rice, U. S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rice of Mary's avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss DuBois is a senior at Kingston High School. Airman Rice is stationed at Mount Horne, Idaho.

SAWKILL

Sawkill, Aug. 22—The Sawkill Volunteer Fire Company held a meeting at the firehouse Monday night. There will be a special meeting next Monday night, Aug. 25, at which definite plans will be formulated for the annual Labor Day weekend picnic, which will be held this year Saturday, Aug. 30. All volunteers, and women of the Auxiliary are requested to be present at this meeting which will begin at 8 p. m. at the firehouse. Any other interested person of the community or fire district is most cordially invited to attend this meeting, or any other meetings of the fire company and auxiliary.

Sunset Service At Belleayre Is Scheduled Sunday

A sunset service will be held on the top of Belleayre Mountain at Highmount Sunday at 6:45 p. m., it was announced today.

Dr. Elmer B. Bostock, pastor of the Washington Street Methodist Church of Poughkeepsie, will be the guest preacher.

Other clergymen officiating will be the Rev. George B. Moody, pastor of the Fleischmans, Halcott Center and Dry Brook Methodist Churches; and the Rev. James H. Cox, pastor of the Pine Hill Community Church and the Shandaken, Big Indian and Oliverea Methodist Churches.

Congregational singing will be accompanied by John Constable, saxophonist, of Margaretville. An anthem will be rendered by the choir of the Shandaken Methodist Church under the direction of Mrs. George L. Marinor, Jr.

Was Pastor in Area

Dr. Bostock was pastor of the Arkville, Pine Hill, Shandaken, Big Indian and Oliverea Methodist Churches when he was doing graduate work at Drew University, Madison, N. J. Before attending Drew, he received his AB degree from Nebraska Wesleyan.

After moving east, he received his BD and MA degrees from Drew and later did further graduate work at Union Theological Seminary and received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Edinburgh in Scotland. Dr. Bostock came to the Washington Street Methodist Church this spring following a three-year pastorate at Center Church in Yonkers.

The chair lift at Belleayre Mountain will start transporting those who attend the sunset service to the top of the mountain at 5:30 p. m. Sunday.

The Protestant Churches of the area have been extended an invitation by the Protestant Churches between Shandaken and Arena to attend this unique and impressive sunset service.

But No Romance

Naples, Italy, Aug. 22 (AP) — There's no romance between young Prince Talal Abdul Aziz of Saudi Arabia and the Sardinian girl amateur radio operator he visited on the island last week, his secretary said today. Report of romance blossomed in the Italian press after the son of King Ibn Saud made a quick trip to Sardinia to visit the girl, Maria Marras. Prince Talal, an enthusiastic amateur radio fan, had talked on the air waves with Maria. The prince came here today en route to Capri for a two day visit before he sails for home on Sunday.

New Paltz Is Preparing for Big Influx Of Visitors to Tour Stone Houses August 26

A large influx of visitors is anticipated by members of the Dutch Reformed Church of New Paltz on Stone House Day, Tuesday, Aug. 26, when stone houses over 200 years old, built by French Huguenots who fled the persecution of Louis XIV, will be opened to the public.

Dressed in colorful period costumes, members of the church will conduct guided tours through the historic buildings on old Huguenot street, from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served by the Kerk League and a picnic supper will be provided by the Dutch Guild.

Founded in 1677

Clustered on a grassy ridge overlooking the winding Wallkill river, the sturdy stone houses are among the earliest French colonial buildings in America. New Paltz was founded by French Huguenots who first escaped to Germany and settled at Pfalz-on-the-Rhine. Lured by the freedom of America, they crossed the Atlantic and sailed up the Hudson river to what is today the city of Kingston. Moving still further north they traversed the river which empties into the Hudson and established a permanent colony in the fertile valley of the Wallkill river.

Their log cabins, built 100 years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, were gradually replaced by more enduring houses of stone. One of these, the home of Abraham Hasbrouck, was built in 1712 by the grandfather of Colonel Jonathan Hasbrouck who built Washington's headquarters at Newburgh. The rough stone walls of the Hasbrouck house are topped by a high steep roof of mediaeval flavor. The huge stone kitchen was famous for cockfighting in colonial days.

Refuge of Hospitality

The Fort at New Paltz, built in 1705, never saw active military duty but it did serve as a refuge of hospitality for the entire community. Churchgoing farmers clad in homespun rode in from the countryside on cold winter Sundays, stopping at the Fort to fill their foot-stoves with glowing coals from the fireplace.

Across Huguenot street from the Fort stands the Bevier-Elting house built in 1698 by Louis Bevier. Used as a store during Revolutionary days, the house is set off by a window with twenty-eight panes of glass over the front door. Stepping through the door, the modern visitor can see unchanged the surroundings of colonial life 250 years ago. Nearby stands the Elting house with its curiously contrived sub-cellar, an inner sanctum where choice liquors were kept safe from pilfering slaves.

Area Features

High above the ensemble of stone houses on old Huguenot street stand the Shawangunk Mountains with their patchwork sides of cultivated fields and their rugged crown of rocks. Boating, swimming and fishing may be enjoyed at nearby Lake Mohonk which lives up to its Indian name of Water in the Sky. Fed by cold mountain springs, its blue waters are securely held in the deep pockets of the Shawangunk Mountains. At Skytop, 1500 feet above sea level, the visitor can look down on Rondout valley with range upon range of the Catskills in the distance. On the other side is the winding Wallkill river and beyond are outlined the bluffs on either side of the Hudson river.

Only eight miles from the outskirts of Poughkeepsie, New Paltz can be reached by taking Route 55 skirt of Poughkeepsie, New Paltz Hudson river to Route 299 leading into New Paltz.

Wooden Shoe Nursery Taking Enrollments

The fall term of the Wooden Shoe Nursery School, 32 Main street, will begin Sept. 2. The school, this year, will be taught by Mrs. Samuel Gally and Mrs. Samuel Martin, who have conducted the Greenkill Camp for children. Both have long been identified with the work of directing the activities of children. The school is sponsored by the Old Dutch Church. It is non-sectarian and is open to boys and girls of pre-school age. Enrollments are now being taken in the church office, 272 Wall street. Both morning and afternoon sessions are held.

Included in these sessions are a rest period, a light lunch, subjects of interest in relation to age and also a recreation period. The school is conducted on a level suggested by the New York state educational authorities.

The new uptown post office which is to be built nearby will not interfere with the school in any way, it has been pointed out, and a special allowance will be available to mothers who wish to participate in the work of the school.

Local Amateur Artist Wins Twilight Award

An oil painting, Winter Scene, exhibited by Mrs. Irma Becker Dudyk, 144 St. James street, was awarded third prize in the Landscapes in Oil class of the sixth annual exhibit of paintings sponsored by Twilight Park Artists which opened last Saturday in Twilight Park.

Twenty-nine artists from this city, Twilight Park, Woodstock, Philadelphia Hill, East Jewett, New Jersey, Virginia, and other locations, were represented with 89 paintings.

The local amateur artist, who studied with Harry Roth of New York and Sawkill, has previously exhibited only in class shows held in the Kingston library. The recent award is the first she has received.

Erwin H. Austin and Alice Pauline Schafer, noted artists of the Albany area, comprised the jury of awards.

SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW—Bridal customs of the East and West meet during the London wedding of Mary Martha San Yan Lo and Kai Yin Chau. Dressed in conventional white, the bride tosses her bouquet to her bridesmaids, top, to follow a Western custom. Below, she is seen in Chinese bridal gown heavily embroidered with gold and silver as she follows the ancient Chinese rite by offering tea to her father-in-law, Dr. S. N. Chau of Hongkong, China. The bride, an American citizen, met her husband at Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

150 Students From Several Countries Will Convene in West Shokan for Hillel Institute

An estimated 150 college and university students from the United States, Canada, the University of Havana, Cuba, and England are expected to attend the annual institute of Hillel Foundations at Camp High Point, West Ashokan, Aug. 26 through Sept. 1.

Founded in 1843

Hillel Foundations, campus organizations for Jewish students, are similar to Newman Clubs for Catholic students and various Protestant campus groups. They are named after the great Hebrew sage who lived during the period of Christ and was known for his great understanding heart and modern approach. The foundations constitute one of the major departments of B'nai B'rith—"Sons of the Covenant"—founded in this country in 1843.

The institute, to be held for the sixth consecutive year at Camp High Point, is planned as a period of training, inspiration and information for next year's student leaders.

Noted Speakers

Among those who will address the students during the institute are Dr. Arthur Lelyveld, national director of Hillel Foundations, whose office is in New York; and Dr. Abram L. Sacher, president of Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass. Other leading educators, writers and Hillel directors will also be present.

The eight-day conference will include discussions, lectures, the editing of a daily newspaper, presentation of program materials, fun and fellowship.

Hillel Foundations are devoted to sustaining religious interest on campuses. Many offer counseling services, loan funds, and promote inter-faith activities.

To Make Technicolor Record

This year, for the first time, it is expected that a crew of professional moving picture men will visit the institute to make a technicolor record of the institute.

E. H. Sonnenreich is director of Camp High Point.

Rochester Church Plans Annual Event

The fourth annual "Lord's Acre" sale, supper and auction sponsored by the Rochester Reformed Church of Accord will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, on the church lawn.

The sale of handmade articles and homemade foods to be displayed in attractive booths will be open to the public at 2 p. m. The supper will begin at 5 p. m. and continue until all are served.

One of the highlights of the day will be the auction at 7 p. m. This will include livestock, poultry, fancy articles, baked goods, garden produce, furniture and other items.

Van Dyke Honored at Party

A farewell party was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Dyke, 30 Tompkins street, for their son, George Van Dyke, Jr., who is going back into service. There were 42 guests present, and many farewell gifts were presented.

INTRODUCING NEW SECRETARY

A reader explains: "Last week a new secretary was hired into a department which consists of all men. The day she came in one of the men was out of town and when he came in several days later, one of the men introduced her to him. Upon introduction, she arose from her desk and shook hands with him. Will you please tell me if this was the proper thing to do? I always thought a woman remained seated when introduced to a man."

Under most circumstances, especially social ones, a lady does not rise when a gentleman is introduced to her—unless he is a notable personage. In the office scene that you depict the impression given is that he was a person of importance, she a young newcomer—her rising was definitely proper. But she should have waited for him to offer his hand, in welcome to her—a new employe.

Removing Used Dishes

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to remove used dishes from the table when there is no maid? A friend of mine always scoops any food left on the plates into one plate and then stacks the dishes one on top of the other and removes them all at the same time. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

Answer: The picture of stacking plates—as you present it—is very unappetizing! Correctly whoever clears the table should carry two plates at a time (one in each hand) out to the kitchen. And then carry out the remaining dishes.

Party for Husband

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband will be coming home on furlough from Korea next month and I would like very much to give a party for him. Will you please tell me what kind of party would be suitable to give for a man, and also please tell me how the invitations should be worded.

Answer: Surely you must know what sort of a party he most enjoys! Your invitations could read: "John is coming home on furlough. Do come in on the evening of....."

* * *

Some readers have written that they find introductions of family and friends confusing. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," will be helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Local Sunflower Patch Has Stalk 15 Feet in Height

Mrs. Harold Middaugh of 178 Fairview avenue purchased 10 cents worth of sunflower seeds about two months ago and planted them.

Today she has a number of gigantic stalks in her backyard, three of them over 11 feet tall and one that Mrs. Middaugh estimates at close to 15 feet.

In the New York-Daily News of August 19 there was a picture of a sunflower grown in Minneapolis, Minn., 11 feet high and expected to grow "another foot," but Mrs. Middaugh has it beaten easily.

Mrs. Middaugh said today that she feels the height of her sunflower patch is particularly appropriate and timely in view of the fact that Kingston is celebrating its 300th anniversary this year.

The Protestant Churches of the area have been extended an invitation by the Protestant Churches between Shandaken and Arena to attend this unique and impressive sunset service.

But No Romance

Naples, Italy, Aug. 22 (AP) — There's no romance between young Prince Talal Abdul Aziz of Saudi Arabia and the Sardinian girl amateur radio operator he visited on the island last week, his secretary said today. Report of romance blossomed in the Italian press after the son of King Ibn Saud made a quick trip to Sardinia to visit the girl, Maria Marras. Prince Talal, an enthusiastic amateur radio fan, had talked on the air waves with Maria. The prince came here today en route to Capri for a two day visit before he sails for home on Sunday.

Postmaster Asks Rate Boost for U. S. Mail

San Francisco, Aug. 22 (AP) —Postmaster General Jesse H. Donaldson says Congress should either raise postal rates or recognize publicly that the post office department is to operate as a fixed deficit.

"As it is," Donaldson told a press conference here yesterday, "Congress makes the post office the whipping by for a deficit it (post office) is helpless to do anything about."

Donaldson said postal rates might have been increased this year, but no congressman wanted to vote a boost during an election year. He said he has recommended that some action be taken next year.

AMA Notes Threat

Chicago, Aug. 22 (AP) — The American Medical Association says that "socialism by treaty is now a greater threat than socialism by domestic legislation." An editorial in the journal of the AMA said that adoption by the four-member U. S. delegation to the International Labor Conference at Geneva, Switzerland, of the social security minimum standards convention of 1952 poses the danger of socialized medicine by treaty. "While the medical benefits in the covenant are carefully distributed through the document, considered together they constitute 'socialized medicine,'" the journal said. "It is extremely important that everyone understand the fact that a treaty, once ratified and in force in the United States, automatically becomes a part of municipal law, a fact that is not generally true in other countries."

To Talk With Tito

London, Aug. 22 (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will confer in Belgrade next month with Yugoslav Premier Marshall Tito. Informed sources say he will take up the touchy Trieste question. British and American officials are known to be worried about the dagger-point relations between Italy and Yugoslavia over eventual control of the disputed international territory on the Adriatic.

Extra-Wide Aisle

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—The Otis Elevator Company opened a new 180-car parking lot for its employes today. Close to the gate is a "ladies' row." It has an extra-wide aisle.

As Pegler Sees It

throughout World War 2. And the trial examiner held that Stabins was a "truthful witness" but that Burton E. Shaw, the vice-president of the company, "holder of several degrees and one of America's foremost scientists," was "an unskilled liar."

Herzog, Houston and Murdock held that the discharge of a thief and liar from a plant covered by the FBI and other protective agencies of the government as well as by the Pinkertons, 24 hours a day, constituted "coercion" was found also in a plot by Photoswitch "to make low-cost insurance available to" the employes. This insurance might have caused grumbling against the expensive and meaningless "social security" whereby the Roosevelt-Truman administration financed its inflationary extravagance, and therefore, of course, was a vicious attack on sound public policy.

The fraudulent nature of the whole proceeding is found in the fact that with the smirking collusion of this government bureau the dismissal of the black sheep cop was ratified after the company's engineers and other men engaged in vital war production had wasted much time in petty haggling at the board's solemn insistence. The hearings lasted four days and the Photoswitch executives realized that they were being badgered by the board in a meaningless farce. As usual, the cards were stacked against the employer and, when the company tumbled to the fact that the board would agree to the bum's dismissal in a fictitious manner, the case was closed.

Stabins signed a letter abandoning the job, picked up his check, walked out of the factory and disappeared for five days while his wife canvassed the probable ports of call for traces of a fellow with $355.20 or any diminishing fraction thereof. The board knew this was to be the way of it and the net result was that by government order Stabins got pay for no work and the bill was passed on to the Common Man through taxes to pay for these electronic things.

Although the F.B.I. could have turned up Stabins's record in a few hours, it was forbidden to do so by the prevailing collusion of the board and the union racket which holds that a criminal character who might be bribed to steal secrets out of a confidential factory should be given his chance to steal first and dismissed afterward, if ever.

Such cases are not rare but common and the Labor Board's high rate of "convictions" of employers is explained by the facts that employers know they can't win, want to get on with the job and realize that the ultimate cost will be paid by the citizens.

To Talk With Tito

London, Aug. 22 (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will confer in Belgrade next month with Yugoslav Premier Marshall Tito. Informed sources say he will take up the touchy Trieste question. British and American officials are known to be worried about the dagger-point relations between Italy and Yugoslavia over eventual control of the disputed international territory on the Adriatic.

Extra-Wide Aisle

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—The Otis Elevator Company opened a new 180-car parking lot for its employes today. Close to the gate is a "ladies' row." It has an extra-wide aisle.

Postmaster Asks Rate Boost for U. S. Mail

San Francisco, Aug. 22 (AP) —Postmaster General Jesse H. Donaldson says Congress should either raise postal rates or recognize publicly that the post office department is to operate as a fixed deficit.

"As it is," Donaldson told a press conference here yesterday, "Congress makes the post office the whipping by for a deficit it (post office) is helpless to do anything about."

Donaldson said postal rates might have been increased this year, but no congressman wanted to vote a boost during an election year. He said he has recommended that some action be taken next year.

AMA Notes Threat

Chicago, Aug. 22 (AP) — The American Medical Association says that "socialism by treaty is now a greater threat than socialism by domestic legislation." An editorial in the journal of the AMA said that adoption by the four-member U. S. delegation to the International Labor Conference at Geneva, Switzerland, of the social security minimum standards convention of 1952 poses the danger of socialized medicine by treaty. "While the medical benefits in the covenant are carefully distributed through the document, considered together they constitute 'socialized medicine,'" the journal said. "It is extremely important that everyone understand the fact that a treaty, once ratified and in force in the United States, automatically becomes a part of municipal law, a fact that is not generally true in other countries."

As Pegler Sees It

throughout World War 2. And the trial examiner held that Stabins was a "truthful witness" but that Burton E. Shaw, the vice-president of the company, "holder of several degrees and one of America's foremost scientists," was "an unskilled liar."

Herzog, Houston and Murdock held that the discharge of a thief and liar from a plant covered by the FBI and other protective agencies of the government as well as by the Pinkertons, 24 hours a day, constituted "coercion" was found also in a plot by Photoswitch "to make low-cost insurance available to" the employes. This insurance might have caused grumbling against the expensive and meaningless "social security" whereby the Roosevelt-Truman administration financed its inflationary extravagance, and therefore, of course, was a vicious attack on sound public policy.

The fraudulent nature of the whole proceeding is found in the fact that with the smirking collusion of this government bureau the dismissal of the black sheep cop was ratified after the company's engineers and other men engaged in vital war production had wasted much time in petty haggling at the board's solemn insistence. The hearings lasted four days and the Photoswitch executives realized that they were being badgered by the board in a meaningless farce. As usual, the cards were stacked against the employer and when the company tumbled to the fact that the board would agree to the bum's dismissal in a fictitious manner, the case was closed.

Stabins signed a letter abandoning the job, picked up his check, walked out of the factory and disappeared for five days while his wife canvassed the probable ports of call for traces of a fellow with $355.20 or any diminishing fraction thereof. The board knew this was to be the way of it and the net result was that by government order Stabins got pay for no work and the bill was passed on to the Common Man through taxes to pay for these electronic things.

Although the F.B.I. could have turned up Stabins's record in a few hours, it was forbidden to do so by the prevailing collusion of the board and the union racket which holds that a criminal character who might be bribed to steal secrets out of a confidential factory should be given his chance to steal first and dismissed afterward, if ever.

Such cases are not rare but common and the Labor Board's high rate of "convictions" of employers is explained by the facts that employers know they can't win, want to get on with the job and realize that the ultimate cost will be paid by the citizens.

CYO Archdiocesan Softball Finals Set In Sunday Twinbill at Block Park

The annual CYO Archdiocesan softball finals scheduled Sunday at Block Park will feature two Kingston teams against metropolitan district opponents.

The first game of a scheduled doubleheader at 2 p. m., will pair St. Mary's of Kingston, the upstate girls champions, against St. Bridget's of Manhattan.

Immaculate Conception of Kingston, Upstate Senior boys champions, go against St. Philip and James of the Bronx in the afterpiece.

St. Mary's girls goes into the finals with a record of 4 wins and 2 losses, while St. Bridget's is credited with six straight wins after dropping the seasonal opener.

Immaculate Conception finished their season with a 6-2 record against a 7-3 mark for St. Philip and James.

In past years all finals have been held in the metropolitan district, but due to the rapid growth of CYO activities in rural upstate New York, the policy has been changed to embrace a rotation plan in which playoffs will be held in a different county of the archdiocese each year.

Redskins Lose Coach and Ace In Same Game

Los Angeles, Aug. 22 (AP)—This is the day the Washington Redskins start over. They lost another exhibition football game last night, but a couple of much more serious things happened to them.

They lost Charley (Choo-Choo) Justice, their offensive star, and their head coach, Dick Todd. Justice broke his wrist, and will be out from four to six weeks.

Officially, Todd quit to attend to his farming interests on Crowell, Tex. Unofficially, there was talk that he and the Redskins' owner, George Marshall, were at odds over the 35-0 shellacking from the San Francisco 49'ers last Sunday.

Todd's announcement said he asked to be relieved before the world champion Los Angeles Rams hung a 45-23 licking on his team last night. The news came out moments after the final gun. Marshall said a successor will be picked today.

Justice distinguished himself with one of the finest performances the Coliseum ever saw before he snapped his wrist. To the cheers of 87,582 he piled up 199 yards in 11 ball-carrying tries. Most of the yardage came on runs of 49, 53 and 63 yards, all starting deep in his own territory. Each time he looked to be in the clear, but the Rams' fleet defensive half, Herb Rich, ran him down.

It was at the end of the 63-yard gallop, when Rich tossed him out of bounds, that his wrist snapped. Justice blamed himself:

"I tried to straight-arm rich and I never should have done it. It was the first time I ever tried to do it in my whole football career."

Giants-Yankees In Little League

Rain wiped out all scheduled baseball action in the city yesterday and only one contest is carded today.

The Giants and the Yankees of the KAA Little League are scheduled to meet at 6 p. m. in an important test at the 156th FA diamond.

The City League has a game scheduled Sunday, while the Town of Esopus Little League starts its championship playoffs the same day.

Question: There's a man on third. One out. The batter hits a grounder to the third baseman. The latter scoops up the ball, tags the runner who has been caught off third, then throws the ball into the dirt trying to nail the batter. The ball gets away from the first baseman. Is the third baseman given an error on his throw?

—Andy Barberi

Providence Star To Defend Title

Thirty six of the nation's best swimmers headed by defending champion Bob Arwezon of the Providence Boys Club will compete in the annual Men's Senior National AAU Long Distance swimming championships Sunday at 1 p. m. at Williams Lake.

Seven team entries also have been received for the exacting four-mile test.

Another standout entry is 13-year-old Frank Brunell who has a flock of 1952 victories to his credit.

Frank Nauss, an outstanding merman from the University of North Carolina, and Rocco Cirigliano, who represents the New York Athletic Club, are also rated among the top contenders.

Team entries include the Providence Boys Club, winners of last year's team title; Camp Kilmer, the Cleveland Elks Swim Club; New York Athletic Club; Brooklyn Central YMCA, Orbach AA and Packanack Lake, N. J., Swim Club.

More than a half century's difference in age separates the oldest and youngest swimmers entered. Several of the contestants are only 16 years of age, with young Brunell the tenderfoot at 13.

Walter Pfahl, 66, heads the greybeard contingent. Pofahl was a member of the United States Olympic cycling team way back in 1912.

Charles Roeser, National AAU men's swimming chairman, will be on hand to referee the race and a number of Adirondack AAU officials will be present for judging duties.

Shurter-Truelove In Special Race

Larry Shurter of West Shokan and Russ Truelove of Waterbury, Conn., will engage in a special match race in addition to the regular seven-race and 25-lap feature Saturday night at Rhinebeck Speedway.

The special race was set up last week after the judge's decision giving Truelove second place over Shurter in the feature set up a loud howl by the fans. They shared second place money that night but agreed to take part in an extra race this week.

Truelove has two feature victories to his credit, but Shurter, who has won several heats, has yet to bag a major win.

Another popular non-Ford race follows the lap feature. Twelve crack amateur speedsters are entered.

Two-Game Series Gives Indians Chance to Crush Fading Yanks

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A month ago the Cleveland Indians were pronounced through as an American League pennant threat.

Today, the Indians could well recall Mark Twain's famous remark:

"Rumors of my death are greatly exaggerated."

The Indians appeared to be knocked from contention on black Tuesday, July 22. That day they dropped a doubleheader to the New York Yankees and fell 7½ games behind the Bombers.

But the Indians didn't fold. Instead they climbed back into the thick of the race and today they invaded the Yankee Stadium for a two game series with first place at stake.

Cleveland, trailing the Yanks by one game, could take over the lead by one percentage point by beating the champions in the series opener.

Big Mike Garcia (15-8) has been nominated to face the Yanks' Allie Reynolds (15-7) in the first game. Early Wynn 16-10) is scheduled to go against New York's Vic Raschi (14-3) in the concluding game Saturday.

Showers are forecast for today and if the game is rained out the teams will clash in a doubleheader tomorrow. If both games are rained out the series will have to be played in Cleveland as this is the Indians' last visit to New York.

Both the Indians and Yanks suffered defeats yesterday. The third place Boston Red Sox knocked off the Indians, 4-1, and the Chicago White Sox drubbed the Yanks, 6-1, to sweep a three-game series. Washington and St. Louis divided a twi-night doubleheader, the Senators winning the first game, 3-2, and the Browns the second, 8-1.

Giants Split

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs impeded New York's pennant bid by splitting a doubleheader with the Giants, winning the first game, 8-6, but losing the second, 10-5. The standoff kept the Giants seven games behind the front-running Brooklyn.

The Dodgers' game with Pittsburgh was rained out. Philadelphia and Cincinnati were idle while in the circuit's only night game, St. Louis nipped Boston, 3-2, for the Cards' sixth straight victory.

Sid Hudson scattered seven hits in beating the Tribe's "spot pitcher," Steve Gromek. The Red Sox nicked Gromek for all of their eight hits and runs in seven innings.

The Yanks, conserving their best pitchers for Cleveland, opened with a second stringer for the third straight time and failed. Rookie Tom Gorman was beaten in the first inning. He walked home one run and his wild throw permitted two more White Sox to score. The three runs were more than southpaw Billy Pierce required as he went on to hold the Yanks to five hits.

Sauer on Rampage

Big Hank Sauer smashed a pair of three-run homers to beat the Giants in the opener at Chicago. The Giants piled up a 6-0 lead before Sauer went to work. He hit his first homer off loser Larry Jansen in the fifth and won the game with another blast in the seventh off Hoyt Wilhelm. The homers boosted Sauer's output to 33 and increased his runs batted in to 106.

Chicago took a 5-0 lead in the second game. Bob Rush blanked the Giants until the sixth when they tallied four runs. The New Yorkers won out with two unearned runs in the seventh and sewed it up with four more in the ninth.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell turned in his seventh straight victory for the Cards in beating Boston. The rookie checked the Braves on five hits and blanked them after Sid Gordon's two-run homer in the first inning.

Spec Shea turned in his 10th for the Senators in the first game at Washington. Lefty Bob Cain of the Browns breezed to his ninth in the second game.

Pacific Northwest Golfers Dominate Semi-Finals in National Amateur Golf

Young Al Mengert of Spokane, just out of the air force; Jack Westland, a candidate for Congress from nearby Everett, and runner-up for the National title way back in 1931, and Bill Mawhinney, former Canadian champion from neighboring Vancouver, N. C., make up the cast from this fine green country.

The lone invader left in the running is Don Cherry, a night-club singer from New York and Texas.

The pairings today found Mengert, a Walker Cup team alternate in 1951, assigned to meet Cherry. Westland, at 47 the "granddady" of the field, met Mawhinney, 23, a bonding company employe on the side and current Pacific Northwest champion.

In yesterday's featur matches, morning round, Jimmy McHale, Mamaroneck, N. Y., disposed of the last former champion when he defeated Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, 3 and 2.

Cherry won from Bob Rosburg, Stanford, Calif., 4 and 3, and Gene Littler of San Diego won from Jim Jackson, Kirkwood, Mo., one up.

Then came the afternoon skirmishes.

Cherry, coming from behind, upset Littler in a battle, 3 and 2.

Mawhinney, two down on the first nine, rallied and sent 36-year-old McHale, twice a member of the Walker Cup team, to the sidelines, one up.

Westland cracked young Dick Yost of Portland, Ore., 3 and one. He spent the morning trimming ex-Yaleman, Bob Kuntz from New York, 4 and 2.

Danish Heads Field In Arlington '25'

Steve Danish of Cropesville, Eastern States champion, heads a field of 40 outstanding drivers for the 25-lap stock car feature Saturday at Arlington Speedway.

Others in the field are Stan Bomba, 1951 points champion; Bud Hitsman, Jerry Ackert, Johnny Rohan and Duke Washburn.

Gerlak in Field In W'dstock Open

Alex Gerlak, Twaalfskill Golf Club, was among the favorites in a field of 30 crack Northeastern PGA professionals who were scheduled to compete in today's 27-hole Woodstock Open.

Armand Farina of Schenectady, Steve Kay of Sharon Springs; Steve Savel of Amsterdam and Frank Stuhler of Bennington, Vt., were also among the favorites.

George Hughes of Twaalfskill and Bill Van Aken, Wiltwyck champion, headed the local amateur contingent. The low nine scorers at the end of 18 holes were to be paired later in the day for the nine-hole finals.

Farina, 1951 pro winner, brought top price in last night's Calcutta at the country club.

Direct Rhythm Stops Good Time

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Direct Rhythm splashed through the rain and slop in the stretch last night to overhaul the favored Good Time and win the $25,000 Yonkers Pacing Derby at Yonkers Raceway in one of the year's major harness racing upsets.

Good Time, the greatest money-winner in the sulky sport's history, didn't even get second money, as Prince Adios ranged up on the outside in the last few yards to get the place spot about a neck behind the winner.

Direct Rhythm, a bay four-year-old son of Billy Direct owned by W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, Ky., was a 13 to 1 shot. He was clocked in 3:19 for the mile and one half.

Good Time, winner of 13 official starts this year and one of the outstanding sidewheelers in the sport's history, showed definitely that he doesn't care especially for an off track.

Lazy Ranch Rodeo Set Sunday at Greenville

The annual Lazy Ranch Rodeo will be held Sunday, Aug. 24, at the ranch grounds in Greenville. The first event is scheduled at 1:30 p. m.

Bronco riding, steer riding, calf roping, stake race and other western events will be included.

"Navajo Joe" McNierney of Kingston will be the announcer and "Bronco Bill" of radio and TV fame will be present to entertain the spectators.

CYO Archdiocesan Softball Finals Set In Sunday Twinbill at Block Park

The annual CYO Archdiocesan softball finals scheduled Sunday at Block Park will feature two Kingston teams against metropolitan district opponents.

The first game of a scheduled doubleheader at 2 p. m., will pair St. Mary's of Kingston, the upstate girls champions, against St. Bridget's of Manhattan.

Immaculate Conception of Kingston, Upstate Senior boys champions, go against St. Philip and James of the Bronx in the afterpiece.

St. Mary's girls goes into the finals with a record of 4 wins and 2 losses, while St. Bridget's is credited with six straight wins after dropping the seasonal opener.

Immaculate Conception finished their season with a 6-2 record against a 7-3 mark for St. Philip and James.

In past years all finals have been held in the metropolitan district, but due to the rapid growth of CYO activities in rural upstate New York, the policy has been changed to embrace a rotation plan in which playoffs will be held in a different county of the archdiocese each year.

Providence Star To Defend Title

Thirty six of the nation's best swimmers headed by defending champion Bob Arwezon of the Providence Boys Club will compete in the annual Men's Senior National AAU Long Distance swimming championships Sunday at 1 p. m. at Williams Lake.

Seven team entries also have been received for the exacting four-mile test.

Another standout entry is 13-year-old Frank Brunell who has a flock of 1952 victories to his credit.

Frank Nauss, an outstanding merman from the University of North Carolina, and Rocco Cirigliano, who represents the New York Athletic Club, are also rated among the top contenders.

Team entries include the Providence Boys Club, winners of last year's team title; Camp Kilmer, the Cleveland Elks Swim Club; New York Athletic Club; Brooklyn Central YMCA, Orbach AA and Packanack Lake, N. J., Swim Club.

More than a half century's difference in age separates the oldest and youngest swimmers entered. Several of the contestants are only 16 years of age, with young Brunell the tenderfoot at 13.

Walter Pfahl, 66, heads the greybeard contingent. Pofahl was a member of the United States Olympic cycling team way back in 1912.

Charles Roeser, National AAU men's swimming chairman, will be on hand to referee the race and a number of Adirondack AAU officials will be present for judging duties.

Shurter-Truelove In Special Race

Larry Shurter of West Shokan and Russ Truelove of Waterbury, Conn., will engage in a special match race in addition to the regular seven-race and 25-lap feature Saturday night at Rhinebeck Speedway.

The special race was set up last week after the judge's decision giving Truelove second place over Shurter in the feature set up a loud howl by the fans. They shared second place money that night but agreed to take part in an extra race this week.

Truelove has two feature victories to his credit, but Shurter, who has won several heats, has yet to bag a major win.

Another popular non-Ford race follows the lap feature. Twelve crack amateur speedsters are entered.

Volto Man Wins

Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Truman L. Campbell's Volto Man scored an easy victory last night in the Buffalo pace at Roosevelt Raceway. Paul Vineyard drove the four-year old home a length and a half in front of Black Counsel with Hot Tip third. The mile was paced in 2:05 2/5. As the favorite, Volto Man paid $4.30, $3.00 and $2.60.

Redskins Lose Coach and Ace In Same Game

Los Angeles, Aug. 22 (AP)—This is the day the Washington Redskins start over. They lost another exhibition football game last night, but a couple of much more serious things happened to them.

They lost Charley (Choo-Choo) Justice, their offensive star, and their head coach, Dick Todd. Justice broke his wrist, and will be out from four to six weeks.

Officially, Todd quit to attend to his farming interests on Crowell, Tex. Unofficially, there was talk that he and the Redskins' owner, George Marshall, were at odds over the 35-0 shellacking from the San Francisco 49'ers last Sunday.

Todd's announcement said he asked to be relieved before the world champion Los Angeles Rams hung a 45-23 licking on his team last night. The news came out moments after the final gun. Marshall said a successor will be picked today.

Justice distinguished himself with one of the finest performances the Coliseum ever saw before he snapped his wrist. To the cheers of 87,582 he piled up 199 yards in 11 ball-carrying tries. Most of the yardage came on runs of 49, 53 and 63 yards, all starting deep in his own territory. Each time he looked to be in the clear, but the Rams' fleet defensive half, Herb Rich, ran him down.

It was at the end of the 63-yard gallop, when Rich tossed him out of bounds, that his wrist snapped. Justice blamed himself:

"I tried to straight-arm rich and I never should have done it. It was the first time I ever tried to do it it in my whole football career."

Giants-Yankees In Little League

Rain wiped out all scheduled baseball action in the city yesterday and only one contest is carded today.

The Giants and the Yankees of the KAA Little League are scheduled to meet at 6 p. m. in an important test at the 156th FA diamond.

The City League has a game scheduled Sunday, while the Town of Esopus Little League starts its championship playoffs the same day.

Question: There's a man on third. One out. The batter hits a grounder to the third baseman. The latter scoops up the ball, tags the runner who has been caught off third, then throws the ball into the dirt trying to nail the batter. The ball gets away from the first baseman. Is the third baseman given an error on his throw?

—Andy Barberi

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A month ago the Cleveland Indians were pronounced through as an American League pennant threat.

Today, the Indians could well recall Mark Twain's famous remark:

"Rumors of my death are greatly exaggerated."

The Indians appeared to be knocked from contention on black Tuesday, July 22. That day they dropped a doubleheader to the New York Yankees and fell 7½ games behind the Bombers.

But the Indians didn't fold. Instead they climbed back into the thick of the race and today they invaded the Yankee Stadium for a two game series with first place at stake.

Cleveland, trailing the Yanks by one game, could take over the lead by one percentage point by beating the champions in the series opener.

Big Mike Garcia (15-8) has been nominated to face the Yanks' Allie Reynolds (15-7) in the first game. Early Wynn 16-10) is scheduled to go against New York's Vic Raschi (14-3) in the concluding game Saturday.

Showers are forecast for today and if the game is rained out the teams will clash in a doubleheader tomorrow. If both games are rained out the series will have to be played in Cleveland as this is the Indians' last visit to New York.

Both the Indians and Yanks suffered defeats yesterday. The third place Boston Red Sox knocked off the Indians, 4-1, and the Chicago White Sox drubbed the Yanks, 6-1, to sweep a three-game series. Washington and St. Louis divided a twi-night doubleheader, the Senators winning the first game, 3-2, and the Browns the second, 8-1.

Giants Split

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs impeded New York's pennant bid by splitting a doubleheader with the Giants, winning the first game, 8-6, but losing the second, 10-5. The standoff kept the Giants seven games behind the front-running Brooklyn.

The Dodgers' game with Pittsburgh was rained out. Philadelphia and Cincinnati were idle while in the circuit's only night game, St. Louis nipped Boston, 3-2, for the Cards' sixth straight victory.

Sid Hudson scattered seven hits in beating the Tribe's "spot pitcher," Steve Gromek. The Red Sox nicked Gromek for all of their eight hits and runs in seven innings.

The Yanks, conserving their best pitchers for Cleveland, opened with a second stringer for the third straight time and failed. Rookie Tom Gorman was beaten in the first inning. He walked home one run and his wild throw permitted two more White Sox to score. The three runs were more than southpaw Billy Pierce required as he went on to hold the Yanks to five hits.

Sauer on Rampage

Big Hank Sauer smashed a pair of three-run homers to beat the Giants in the opener at Chicago. The Giants piled up a 6-0 lead before Sauer went to work. He hit his first homer off loser Larry Jansen in the fifth and won the game with another blast in the seventh off Hoyt Wilhelm. The homers boosted Sauer's output to 33 and increased his runs batted in to 106.

Chicago took a 5-0 lead in the second game. Bob Rush blanked the Giants until the sixth when they tallied four runs. The New Yorkers won out with two unearned runs in the seventh and sewed it up with four more in the ninth.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell turned in his seventh straight victory for the Cards in beating Boston. The rookie checked the Braves on five hits and blanked them after Sid Gordon's two-run homer in the first inning.

Spec Shea turned in his 10th for the Senators in the first game at Washington. Lefty Bob Cain of the Browns breezed to his ninth in the second game.

Pacific Northwest Golfers Dominate Semi-Finals in National Amateur Golf

Seattle, Aug. 22 (AP)—This great Pacific Northwest, which it how the natives modestly describe it, is not only playing host to its first men's National Amateur golf championship, it is supplying three-fourths of the field in the semi-finals today.

Young Al Mengert of Spokane, just out of the air force; Jack Westland, a candidate for Congress from nearby Everett, and runner-up for the National title way back in 1931, and Bill Mawhinney, former Canadian champion from neighboring Vancouver, N. C., make up the cast from this fine green country.

The lone invader left in the running is Don Cherry, a night-club singer from New York and Texas.

They make up the four who escaped defeat in yesterday's double round at the Seattle Country Club.

The pairings today found Mengert, a Walker Cup team alternate in 1951, assigned to meet Cherry. Westland, at 47 the "granddady" of the field, met Mawhinney, 23, a bonding company employe on the side and current Pacific Northwest champion.

In yesterday's featur matches, morning round, Jimmy McHale, Mamaroneck, N. Y., disposed of the last former champion when he defeated Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, 3 and 2.

Cherry won from Bob Rosburg, Stanford, Calif., 4 and 3, and Gene Littler of San Diego won from Jim Jackson, Kirkwood, Mo., one up.

Then came the afternoon skirmishes.

Cherry, coming from behind, upset Littler in a battle, 3 and 2.

Mawhinney, two down on the first nine, rallied and sent 36-year-old McHale, twice a member of the Walker Cup team, to the sidelines, one up.

Westland cracked young Dick Yost of Portland, Ore., 3 and one. He spent the morning trimming ex-Yaleman, Bob Kuntz from New York, 4 and 2.

Danish Heads Field In Arlington '25'

Steve Danish of Cropesville, Eastern States champion, heads a field of 40 outstanding drivers for the 25-lap stock car feature Saturday at Arlington Speedway.

Others in the field are Stan Bomba, 1951 points champion; Bud Hitsman, Jerry Ackert, Johnny Rohan and Duke Washburn.

Gerlak in Field In W'dstock Open

Alex Gerlak, Twaalfskill Golf Club, was among the favorites in a field of 30 crack Northeastern PGA professionals who were scheduled to compete in today's 27-hole Woodstock Open.

Armand Farina of Schenectady, Steve Kay of Sharon Springs; Steve Savel of Amsterdam and Frank Stuhler of Bennington, Vt., were also among the favorites.

George Hughes of Twaalfskill and Bill Van Aken, Wiltwyck champion, headed the local amateur contingent. The low nine scorers at the end of 18 holes were to be paired later in the day for the nine-hole finals.

Farina, 1951 pro winner, brought top price in last night's Calcutta at the country club.

Direct Rhythm Stops Good Time

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Direct Rhythm splashed through the rain and slop in the stretch last night to overhaul the favored Good Time and win the $25,000 Yonkers Pacing Derby at Yonkers Raceway in one of the year's major harness racing upsets.

Good Time, the greatest money-winner in the sulky sport's history, didn't even get second money, as Prince Adios ranged up on the outside in the last few yards to get the place spot about a neck behind the winner.

Direct Rhythm, a bay four-year-old son of Billy Direct owned by W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, Ky., was a 13 to 1 shot. He was clocked in 3:19 for the mile and one half.

Good Time, winner of 13 official starts this year and one of the outstanding sidewheelers in the sport's history, showed definitely that he doesn't care especially for an off track.

Hughes and Boice Finalists In Twaalfskill Championships

Boice Nips Van Gonsic In Semi-Finals, 2 and 1

George Hughes, 1951 Ulster county amateur champion, will defend his Twaalfskill Golf Club crown in a 36-hole finals against Alvin Boice, who is a two-time former champion.

The first 18 holes are scheduled Saturday at 1 p. m., with the concluding round getting under way at 10 a. m. on Sunday.

Boice, who was knocked out of contention by John Van Gonsic in a dramatic match in 1951, squared the count with the bus line tycoon Thursday with a 2 and 1 victory.

Hughes had earlier gained the finals with a 3 and 2 triumph over Charlie Haffney.

Long Off Tees

Hitting for tremendous distance off the tees, Boice overcame a shaky start to card an outgoing 37 for a one-hole lead over the dogged veteran.

After halving the 10th hole, Boice picked up a par-3 on the 11th for a two-up edge, the biggest margin he held anytime during the match.

Van Gonsic's drive off the 12th was true to the pin just short of the green, while Boice faded a long tee shot to the right and was short with his pitch. He took a bogey-4 and the match was squared when Van Gonsic drove the 13th green and narrowly missed an eagle.

First off the 14th, Van Gonsic smothered his tee shot and needed four to reach the green on the long par-5 hole. Boice drove to the water fountain, whipped a long iron down the fairway and was above the pin on his third shot. He solved the tricky carpet for a regulation five while Van Gonsic needed a 6 and Boice went ahead to stay.

Boice drove dead to the stick on the 15th while Van Gonsic's drive was strong and landed across the green in a heavy fringe. He elected to go with the putter and was too strong and off line. Boice played it safely for a 3 and went 2-up.

Van Gonsic Battles

Still fighting, Van Gonsic scrambled from a faded second shot to chip within four feet of the pin on the 16th. Boice, who was on in two, got down in four for the birdie and Van Gonsic knocked his four-footer in for a half.

The match ended on the 17th, Boice blasting a tremendous drive near the sandtrap, with Van Gonsic just a few yards shorter. Van Gonsic was short on his approach, hitting the trip, while Boice was safely on about eight feet from the pin. Van Gonsic was short on his blast from the sand and the match ended when he failed to can his chip shot from the edge of the green.

Boice played the card with a 31 for the eight holes of the second nine. He bogied the fourth hole and birdied the seventh.

The cards:

Par Out	433	453	544—35
Van Gonsic Out	435	462	554—38
Boice Out	633	363	445—37
Par In	433	453	544—35
Van Gonsic In	443	364	45—
Boice In	434	453	44—

Boice wins, 2 and 1.

An Advertising Stunt

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 22 (AP) — The "flying saucer" many Worcester residents reported seeing last night wasn't flying and it wasn't a saucer. Scores of persons telephoned police and newspapers to report the "flying saucer." Police and newspapermen found, on investigation, that a new filling station had hired a huge searchlight to attract attention. Its beam sent a bright disc to low-hanging clouds.

Won't Defend Reds

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—The American Federation of Teachers will not defend any of its members found to be Communists. The group's 35th annual convention adopted such a resolution yesterday after long debate. The five-day convention ends today. The union's constitution bars from membership Communists, Fascists, and others "subject to totalitarian control." The resolution, approved overwhelmingly, said the AFT and its locals would not defend a teacher whose membership violated the clause. "The accused member" shall be assumed innocent until proved guilty, the resolution said, and locals were directed to see that an accused member has a chance to clear himself of the charge. One delegate, Robert Lowenstein of Newark, N. J., said the action put "the union label on McCarthyism."

Cub Pack 15 Enjoys Three Field Visits

Cub Scouts of Pack 15 enjoyed visits during the week to the Senate House and Museum, Babcock Farms Dairy and a conducted tour of the facilities of the local ferryboat, as features of the summer program arranged by the Pack Committee.

The five Dens of boys which are included in Pack 15 have had a continuous program during the summer months, and a committeeman of the Pack pointed out that the enthusiasm of the boys and the high percentage of participants indicate that the 12-months program for Cub Scouts is a necessity.

The Pack Committee held its annual meeting Wednesday night and a program for the coming year, beginning in September, was arranged. This program includes Den meetings every week and a Pack meeting on the last Wednesday of each month.

Final plans for the August Pack meeting at Lawton Park Wednesday, Aug. 27, were arranged by the committee, with Den Dads James Connelly and Frank Rittie in charge of the event.

Most of Texas Is Still Hit By Drouth

(By The Associated Press)

Cool air from Canada tumbled temperatures 10 to 20 degrees early Friday in the Missouri valley region, but for most of Texas it was the same story—no relief from the heat and drouth.

The mercury headed for the 100-degree mark again in parts of Texas for the 21st consecutive day. Five more heat deaths were reported in Texas yesterday.

Orange county on the Texas Gulf coast had a 2½ inch rain Thursday, but that region has had ample moisture. The long drouth is burning out crops and pastures in other sections of the state.

Scattered thundershowers occurred from New England southwestward over the Middle Atlantic states. Showers also were reported in the Ohio river valley, northern Oklahoma, northern New Mexico and portions of Colorado.

Skies were generally fair elsewhere.

He Talks Fish Talk

Sullivan, Ind., Aug. 22 (AP)—Byrd Squire says when he stands on the bank of his pond and calls, "fishie, fishie," catfish assemble by hundreds as close to him as they can get. Charles Brown, Sullivan newspaperman vouches for the claim. He says he and more than a hundred other persons have watched Squire's fish-calling act at random spots around the pond. Squire, hoisting engineer for a coal mine, says it's easy. "I never lie to them. I feed them every time I call them."

Tuesday afternoon, the federation group will attend a meeting of the New York Republican State Committee, which also will convene at the Hotel Ten Eyck—to nominate the party's candidate for U. S. Senator.

Record Tax Collection

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP) — A record $64,971,210,298 was collected by the Internal Revenue Bureau in taxes and social security contributions during the fiscal year which ended June 30. This was about 14½ billion dollars more than in the previous 12 months. In addition, federal agencies other than the Revenue Bureau took in $2,364,500,000 for fiscal 1952. In the 1953 fiscal year, which started July 1, President Truman has estimated collections will total about 75 billion dollars. These gross figures do not include billions of dollars refunded to taxpayers or set aside for social security payments.

Brave Shop Keeper

Dayton, O., Aug. 22 (AP)—"Give me $60. My wife is desperately ill," the armed bandit said as he entered Mrs. Virginia Mercer's dry cleaning shop yesterday. "Go ahead and shoot, I need the money as much as you do," the 32-year-old woman defiantly replied. It worked. The bandit fled.

New Drug for Children

New York, Aug. 22 (AP) — A pharmaceutical company has announced development of a new antibiotic combination it says brings a high cure rate in infectious diarrhea of infants and children. The product is known as Neobacin, a combination of neomycin and bacitracin. The company, CSC Pharmaceuticals, a division of the Commercial Solvents Corporation, said yesterday that the combination had been given in hospital tests to children ranging in age from five days to four years. The announcement said diarrhea subsided quickly and fever soon disappeared when neobacin was given.

Legion Commander Reaches New York

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—American Legion National Commander Donald R. Wilson flew into town yesterday to help get things rolling for the start of the Legion's 34th convention here Sunday.

Wilson, of Clarksburg, W. Va., told newsmen the Legion would discuss a "more vigorous" foreign policy and the question of applying "the strength that America is endowed with to bring about victory by military means in Korea."

An estimated 100,000 or more legionnaires are expected for the week-long convention at which the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates will speak. Dwight D. Eisenhower will speak Monday, and Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson Wednesday.

Plane Fails to Return

Balboa, Panama Canal Zone, Aug. 22 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force said an American rescue plane had failed to return on schedule last night from a mercy mission to Manizales, Colombia, but authorities believed bad weather might have prevented the flight back. The amphibian plane was sent to pick up an American identified only as Emmett Maudlon, reported urgently requiring hospital attention for unexplained injuries.

ITU Votes Big Defense Fund

Cincinnati, Aug. 22 (AP)—International Typographical Union delegates, rounding out their centennial convention here today, have endorsed a special defense fund assessment which is expected to raise $10,000,000.

The 2½ per cent assessment would be in effect for one year. The ITU membership is to vote on the fighting fund levy Oct. 22 in a national referendum. The assessment would be in addition to the one-half of one per cent defense fund assessment provided for by union law.

Opponents of the union's newspaper publishing program went down to defeat yesterday, in a 284 to 53 roll call ballot. Delegates voted to uphold the ITU defense committee's rejection of a resolution demanding a full accounting of Unitypo, Inc.

President Woodruff Randolph took the floor himself yesterday to defend the ITU subsidiary, which was set up to fight "unsatisfactory" publishers in cities having only one newspaper or in which strikes were going on. Unitypo's weapon is setting up and supporting a rival newspaper in the city. Opponents claimed Unitypo had proven ineffective and termed it "a monster that is eating up the union's resources."

Kids have a lot of problems these days, too!

Like thinking about playing marbles—when their mothers have sent them to the store to buy a particular brand of a particular product!

If they go home with "something else"—look out!

It's no wonder the American housewife, whether she sends Sonny to the store, or shops herself, buys products with manufacturers' names she believes in. For where else in the world do thousands of companies try to outdo each other in making things better at the lowest possible prices? Where else, but under our competitive system, can she take her free choice of so many good things, all made by manufacturers who have pride in their names and the products behind them?

You, the consumer, are the boss in this land of brands! Remember them as you read the advertisements in this newspaper—and trade at the stores where you see them featured.

Hughes and Boice Finalists In Twaalfskill Championships

Boice Nips Van Gonsic In Semi-Finals, 2 and 1

George Hughes, 1951 Ulster county amateur champion, will defend his Twaalfskill Golf Club crown in a 36-hole finals against Alvin Boice, who is a two-time former champion.

The first 18 holes are scheduled Saturday at 1 p. m., with the concluding round getting under way at 10 a. m. on Sunday.

Boice, who was knocked out of contention by John Van Gonsic in a dramatic match in 1951, squared the count with the bus line tycoon Thursday with a 2 and 1 victory.

Hughes had earlier gained the finals with a 3 and 2 triumph over Charlie Haffney.

Long Off Tees

Hitting for tremendous distance off the tees, Boice overcame a shaky start to card an outgoing 37 for a one-hole lead over the dogged veteran.

After halving the 10th hole, Boice picked up a par-3 on the 11th for a two-up edge, the biggest margin he held anytime during the match.

Van Gonsic's drive off the 12th was true to the pin just short of the green, while Boice faded a long tee shot to the right and was short with his pitch. He took a bogey-4 and the match was squared when Van Gonsic drove the 13th green and narrowly missed an eagle.

First off the 14th, Van Gonsic smothered his tee shot and needed four to reach the green on the long par-5 hole. Boice drove to the water fountain, whipped a long iron down the fairway and was above the pin on his third shot. He solved the tricky carpet for a regulation five while Van Gonsic needed a 6 and Boice went ahead to stay.

Boice drove dead to the stick on the 15th while Van Gonsic's drive was strong and landed across the green in a heavy fringe. He elected to go with the putter and was too strong and off line. Boice played it safely for a 3 and went 2-up.

Van Gonsic Battles

Still fighting, Van Gonsic scrambled from a faded second shot to chip within four feet of the pin on the 16th. Boice, who was on in two, got down in four for the birdie and Van Gonsic knocked his four-footer in for a half.

The match ended on the 17th, Boice blasting a tremendous drive near the sandtrap, with Van Gonsic just a few yards shorter. Van Gonsic was short on his approach, hitting the trip, while Boice was safely on about eight feet from the pin. Van Gonsic was short on his blast from the sand and the match ended when he failed to can his chip shot from the edge of the green.

Boice played the card with a 31 for the eight holes of the second nine. He bogied the fourth hole and birdied the seventh.

The cards:

Par Out	433	453	544—35
Van Gonsic Out	435	462	554—38
Boice Out	633	363	445—37
Par In	433	453	544—35
Van Gonsic In	443	364	45—
Boice In	434	453	44—

Boice wins, 2 and 1.

An Advertising Stunt

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 22 (AP) — The "flying saucer" many Worcester residents reported seeing last night wasn't flying and it wasn't a saucer. Scores of persons telephoned police and newspapers to report the "flying saucer." Police and newspapermen found, on investigation, that a new filling station had hired a huge searchlight to attract attention. Its beam sent a bright disc to low-hanging clouds.

Won't Defend Reds

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—The American Federation of Teachers will not defend any of its members found to be Communists. The group's 35th annual convention adopted such a resolution yesterday after long debate. The five-day convention ends today. The union's constitution bars from membership Communists, Fascists, and others "subject to totalitarian control." The resolution, approved overwhelmingly, said the AFT and its locals would not defend a teacher whose membership violated the clause. "The accused member" shall be assumed innocent until proved guilty, the resolution said, and locals were directed to see that an accused member has a chance to clear himself of the charge. One delegate, Robert Lowenstein of Newark, N. J., said the action put "the union label on McCarthyism."

Cub Pack 15 Enjoys Three Field Visits

Cub Scouts of Pack 15 enjoyed visits during the week to the Senate House and Museum, Babcock Farms Dairy and a conducted tour of the facilities of the local ferryboat, as features of the summer program arranged by the Pack Committee.

The five Dens of boys which are included in Pack 15 have had a continuous program during the summer months, and a committeeman of the Pack pointed out that the enthusiasm of the boys and the high percentage of participants indicate that the 12-months program for Cub Scouts is a necessity.

The Pack Committee held its annual meeting Wednesday night and a program for the coming year, beginning in September, was arranged. This program includes Den meetings every week and a Pack meeting on the last Wednesday of each month.

Final plans for the August Pack meeting at Lawton Park Wednesday, Aug. 27, were arranged by the committee, with Den Dads James Connelly and Frank Rittie in charge of the event.

Most of Texas Is Still Hit By Drouth

(By The Associated Press)

Cool air from Canada tumbled temperatures 10 to 20 degrees early Friday in the Missouri valley region, but for most of Texas it was the same story—no relief from the heat and drouth.

The mercury headed for the 100-degree mark again in parts of Texas for the 21st consecutive day. Five more heat deaths were reported in Texas yesterday.

Orange county on the Texas Gulf coast had a 2½ inch rain Thursday, but that region has had ample moisture. The long drouth is burning out crops and pastures in other sections of the state.

Scattered thundershowers occurred from New England southwestward over the Middle Atlantic states. Showers also were reported in the Ohio river valley, northern Oklahoma, northern New Mexico and portions of Colorado.

Skies were generally fair elsewhere.

He Talks Fish Talk

Sullivan, Ind., Aug. 22 (AP)—Byrd Squire says when he stands on the bank of his pond and calls, "fishie, fishie," catfish assemble by hundreds as close to him as they can get. Charles Brown, Sullivan newspaperman vouches for the claim. He says he and more than a hundred other persons have watched Squire's fish-calling act at random spots around the pond. Squire, hoisting engineer for a coal mine, says it's easy. "I never lie to them. I feed them every time I call them."

Legion Commander Reaches New York

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—American Legion National Commander Donald R. Wilson flew into town yesterday to help get things rolling for the start of the Legion's 34th convention here Sunday.

Wilson, of Clarksburg, W. Va., told newsmen the Legion would discuss a "more vigorous" foreign policy and the question of applying "the strength that America is endowed with to bring about victory by military means in Korea."

An estimated 100,000 or more legionnaires are expected for the week-long convention at which the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates will speak. Dwight D. Eisenhower will speak Monday, and Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson Wednesday.

Plane Fails to Return

Balboa, Panama Canal Zone, Aug. 22 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force said an American rescue plane had failed to return on schedule last night from a mercy mission to Manizales, Colombia, but authorities believed bad weather might have prevented the flight back. The amphibian plane was sent to pick up an American identified only as Emmett Maudlon, reported urgently requiring hospital attention for unexplained injuries.

ITU Votes Big Defense Fund

Cincinnati, Aug. 22 (AP)—International Typographical Union delegates, rounding out their centennial convention here today, have endorsed a special defense fund assessment which is expected to raise $10,000,000.

The 2½ per cent assessment would be in effect for one year. The ITU membership is to vote on the fighting fund levy Oct. 22 in a national referendum. The assessment would be in addition to the one-half of one per cent defense fund assessment provided for by union law.

Opponents of the union's newspaper publishing program went down to defeat yesterday, in a 284 to 53 roll call ballot. Delegates voted to uphold the ITU defense committee's rejection of a resolution demanding a full accounting of Unitypo, Inc.

President Woodruff Randolph took the floor himself yesterday to defend the ITU subsidiary, which was set up to fight "unsatisfactory" publishers in cities having only one newspaper or in which strikes were going on. Unitypo's weapon is setting up and supporting a rival newspaper in the city. Opponents claimed Unitypo had proven ineffective and termed it "a monster that is eating up the union's resources."

Senator Ives Is To Address Women At Albany Session

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives (R.-N.Y.) has been named principal speaker at next week's conference of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York state convening in Albany.

Miss Jane Todd, federation president and vice chairman of the New York Republican State Committee, announced yesterday that Ives will address the dinner session next Monday, first day of the two-day meeting. Ives' term expires next Jan. 3.

Other speakers, at the conference in the Ten Eyck Hotel, will include:

Oswald D. Heck of Schenectary, speaker of the State Assembly, and Mrs. Oswald B. Lord of New York city, national co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon Committee. They will speak Monday afternoon.

Rep. Katharine St. George, Republican nominee for reelection in the 28th Congressional District, and Mrs. Walter S. Monad, co-manager of the New York state campaign, are scheduled to speak at the Monday evening session.

At a business session on Monday, delegates will be elected to the biennial convention of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs Sept. 19 and 20 at St. Louis.

Tuesday afternoon, the federation group will attend a meeting of the New York Republican State Committee, which also will convene at the Hotel Ten Eyck—to nominate the party's candidate for U. S. Senator.

Record Tax Collection

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP) — A record $64,971,210,298 was collected by the Internal Revenue Bureau in taxes and social security contributions during the fiscal year which ended June 30. This was about 14½ billion dollars more than in the previous 12 months. In addition, federal agencies other than the Revenue Bureau took in $2,364,500,000 for fiscal 1952. In the 1953 fiscal year, which started July 1, President Truman has estimated collections will total about 75 billion dollars. These gross figures do not include billions of dollars refunded to taxpayers or set aside for social security payments.

Brave Shop Keeper

Dayton, O., Aug. 22 (AP)—"Give me $60. My wife is desperately ill," the armed bandit said as he entered Mrs. Virginia Mercer's dry cleaning shop yesterday. "Go ahead and shoot, I need the money as much as you do," the 32-year-old woman defiantly replied. It worked. The bandit fled.

Colgate Gridders Start

Hamilton, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Colgate's new football coach, Hal Lahar, has called 45 candidates out for drills starting Sept. 4. Lahar said yesterday two sessions a day would be held until classes start Sept. 23. Colgate opens against Cornell at Ithaca Sept. 27.

New Drug for Children

New York, Aug. 22 (AP) — A pharmaceutical company has announced development of a new antibiotic combination it says brings a high cure rate in infectious diarrhea of infants and children. The product is known as Neobacin, a combination of neomycin and bacitracin. The company, CSC Pharmaceuticals, a division of the Commercial Solvents Corporation, said yesterday that the combination had been given in hospital tests to children ranging in age from five days to four years. The announcement said diarrhea subsided quickly and fever soon disappeared when neobacin was given.

Kids have a lot of problems these days, too!

Like thinking about playing marbles—when their mothers have sent them to the store to buy a particular brand of a particular product!

If they go home with "something else"—look out!

It's no wonder the American housewife, whether she sends Sonny to the store, or shops herself, buys products with manufacturers' names she believes in. For where else in the world do thousands of companies try to outdo each other in making things better at the lowest possible prices? Where else, but under our competitive system, can she take her free choice of so many good things, all made by manufacturers who have pride in their names and the products behind them?

You, the consumer, are the boss in this land of brands! Remember them as you read the advertisements in this newspaper—and trade at the stores where you see them featured.

Man Is Arrested; Is Held for Jury

An Ulster county grand jury will determine whether or not sufficient evidence exists to order a young Ulster Heights man to stand trial on an accusation that the striking of a mother and daughter with his automobile was a case of second degree assault rather than an accident.

State police of the Ellenville station reported today that they arrested Robert Mansfield, Jr., 23, of Box 623, Ellenville, on the assault charge after they completed investigation of an Aug. 7 accident. Mansfield waived examination and was ordered held for the grand jury when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel.

Troopers said the arrest was in connection with the reported accident near Ellenville in which Mrs. Ruth Ackermann, 31, and her daughter, Susan, 5, of Flushing, were injured on Briggs Highway by an automobile allegedly driven by Mansfield. Shortly after the accident, troopers arrested Mansfield on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and driving while his operator's license was suspended. Justice Poppel fined Mansfield $25 on each of the charges.

HOWARD J. CARR

Howard J. Carr, a resident of Hollywood, Fla., for eight years, has announced the opening of his office as chiropractor at 268 Fair street. An open house will be held August 24 from 2 to 4 p. m. to which the public is invited.

Carr, who was born in Pittsfield, Mass., later resided in Michigan where he attended high school and Michigan State College. He received his doctorate of chiropractic degree from the Palmer School of Chiropractics in Davenport, Ia., where he assisted on the technical staff of the B. J. Clinic.

He is a charter member of the Polio Research Foundation and of the Elks Club.

Carr, who is married, has three children, Lynne, James Dennis and David Brian.

Paper Makes Demand Peurifoy Quit Greece

Athens, Greece, Aug. 22 (AP)—The pro-government newspaper Elliniki Imera today demanded the withdrawal from Greece of U. S. Ambassador John E. Peurifoy because he urged elections for a new Greek government soon.

It was the most bitter attack on Peurifoy since he remarked to Greek newsmen two days ago that a new government would be in a better position to attack the country's pressing economic problems.

Peurifoy "must withdraw from Greece" because of his "interference" in local politics, Elliniki Imera said today in an editorial which covered the top half of the front page.

MIGs during the afternoon. The aerial duel between two Sabres and two MIGs from a formation of 16 was on a sweep that took the American planes within 30 miles of the bombed-out Suiho power plant on the Manchurian border.

The new claims brought to 28 the number of Red jets damaged during August—in addition to 26 shot down and two others probably destroyed.

The air force said UN pilots destroyed 11 Red-occupied buildings, 15 gun positions, 49 bunkers and four mortars, and inflicted 20 troop casualties.

Assault Is Beaten

UN infantrymen early today beat back a 16-man Chinese assault on Bunker Hill, in the west. On the central front, UN soldiers hurled back a probing Red platoon in a 40-minute battle near Capital Kill.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the Communists flashed searchlights on allied lines early Thursday, probably for the first time in the war. A staff officer said the beams obviously were trying to spot loudspeakers blaring psychological warfare at the Reds.

The U. S. Navy said Communist shore guns Wednesday hit the American Destroyer-minesweeper Thompson off northeastern Korea. Four crewmen were reported killed and nine wounded.

Searchers today recovered the the bodies of three more of the 30 American infantrymen presumed drowned in a flash flood during training last Monday. So far, bodies of 15 members of the 45th division union have been found.

of the Thruway Authority, said that the Authority had received one bid on the project. It is expected that a formal award of the contract will be made to the low bidder following an analysis of the bids and processing of the contract forms.

Included in the work will be the drilling of some 2350 lineal feet of soil exploration holes at 10 locations. A total of 50 test holes are involved in the project which was estimated at $20,100.

The subsurface information obtained from this project will be used as the basis for detail design of this section of the Thruway. Work will be under the direction of J. S. Bixby, district engineer in charge of the New York State Department of Public Works Poughkeepsie office.

Kingston Needs $960 Cancer Fund

It was announced today by County Chairman Herman G. Rafalowsky, that the city of Kingston is $960 short of its quota in this year's Cancer Crusade. As the campaign is brought to an official close this week, it was learned that many citizens of Kingston had failed to respond to the appeal for funds, although a second reminder letter had been mailed out.

"As Kingston has always gone over the quota set up for it in past years," Rafalowsky said, "it is hoped that those who have not already contributed in this great cause, will do so within the next few days." He also requested that anyone who still has boxes on hand, to contact him directly, or John Larkin, city chairman, at 41 Pearl street.

Checks should be made payable to the American Cancer Society, and mailed to George Bode, treasurer, at P. O. Box 155, Kingston, Rafalowsky said.

Man Is Arrested; Is Held for Jury

An Ulster county grand jury will determine whether or not sufficient evidence exists to order a young Ulster Heights man to stand trial on an accusation that the striking of a mother and daughter with his automobile was a case of second degree assault rather than an accident.

State police of the Ellenville station reported today that they arrested Robert Mansfield, Jr., 23, of Box 623, Ellenville, on the assault charge after they completed investigation of an Aug. 7 accident. Mansfield waived examination and was ordered held for the grand jury when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel.

Troopers said the arrest was in connection with the reported accident near Ellenville in which Mrs. Ruth Ackermann, 31, and her daughter, Susan, 5, of Flushing, were injured on Briggs Highway by an automobile allegedly driven by Mansfield. Shortly after the accident, troopers arrested Mansfield on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and driving while his operator's license was suspended. Justice Poppel fined Mansfield $25 on each of the charges.

HOWARD J. CARR

Howard J. Carr, a resident of Hollywood, Fla., for eight years, has announced the opening of his office as chiropractor at 268 Fair street. An open house will be held August 24 from 2 to 4 p. m. to which the public is invited.

Carr, who was born in Pittsfield, Mass., later resided in Michigan where he attended high school and Michigan State College. He received his doctorate of chiropractic degree from the Palmer School of Chiropractics in Davenport, Ia., where he assisted on the technical staff of the B. J. Clinic.

He is a charter member of the Polio Research Foundation and of the Elks Club.

Paper Makes Demand Peurifoy Quit Greece

Athens, Greece, Aug. 22 (AP)—The pro-government newspaper Elliniki Imera today demanded the withdrawal from Greece of U. S. Ambassador John E. Peurifoy because he urged elections for a new Greek government soon.

It was the most bitter attack on Peurifoy since he remarked to Greek newsmen two days ago that a new government would be in a better position to attack the country's pressing economic problems.

Elliniki Imera, an organ of Deputy Prime Minister Sophocles Venizelos' Liberal party, had led the newspaper attacks yesterday on Peurifoy. Opposition papers generally approved his remark.

Peurifoy "must withdraw from Greece" because of his "interference" in local politics, Elliniki Imera said today in an editorial which covered the top half of the front page.

Duke in Better Health

Paris, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor left Paris by train today for a three-week stay in Biarritz. A Swedish physical culture expert, Dr. Hylding Algren, who treated the duke at Antibes, travelled with them. A member of the Windsor household said the duke is now in very much better health and had completely recovered from the illness he suffered while in Italy. The illness was described at the time as gastroenteritis.

Radio station KDKA in Pittsburgh was the first station in the world to broadcast regularly scheduled programs.

Firemen Make Emergency Test

Firemen from the town of Esopus with an assist from Kingston, simulate an emergency defense call in testing their strength at the C. Hiltebrant Dry Dock Co., South Rondout Wednesday. Men and equipment from five companies in the town of Esopus and from Cornell station, Kingston, responded to the test call arranged by Fire Chief Edward Mains of Port Ewen with the cooperation of the other fire chiefs. The units responding were Esopus, Rifton, St. Remy, Connelly, Port Ewen and the downtown Kingston station. They are shown here pumping streams from the Rondout creek. (Freeman photo)

Bendix Makes Hit

Clark, Paramount starlet; William Thomas, producer of Caribbean; Walter Reade, Jr., theatre chain owner; Fred Goldberg, Paramount public relations director; Albert Florsheimer, Reade Theatres publicity director; Joseph Summers and Vogel Gettier, local Reade theatre managers.

Played Football Here

At the regular Kiwanis Club luncheon at noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel, at which Rotary and Lions Club members were also present, Bendix revealed that he had been in Kingston once before, 27 years ago, when he played on a Westchester football team against the Kingston Yellow Jackets.

The game was played on a Thanksgiving Day, and "the field was five inches deep in water," the actor said.

Learning that Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly was connected at the time with the team's management, Bendix complained that he was supposed to get $15 for the game, "and I wound up with 90 cents." When the alderman-at-large commented, "You were lucky," Bendix replied, "So they tell me."

Throughout the day, Bendix had trouble pronouncing the word, tercentennial, and finally wound up referring to Kingston's ten-centenial, and stated that it should be sponsored by Woolworth's.

Lydia Clark Chooses State

Starlet Lydia Clark, somewhat eclipsed by the veteran actor, scored a hit of her own during the Kiwanis Club luncheon when she stated that she had traveled a great deal over the country, and that "If I had a chance to pick a home, I would choose New York state. It is the most beautiful country in the world."

The serious message brought by Bendix and others in the party, and repeated several times, was that Hollywood will appreciate the advice of the public as to what type of pictures to produce. He asked those who attend the moving pictures to tell the theatre managers whether or not they liked a picture.

Bendix also paid tribute to those who help to make the moving pictures possible—carpenters, laborers, electricians and others. These as well as the stars are "just ordinary guys like everybody else," he said.

Regrets From Arlene Dahl

Arlene Dahl, whose appearance here was delayed by a shooting schedule on a picture she is finishing, expressed her regrets through the other Hollywood representatives, as well as by telegram and in a telephone call put through by Walter Reade, Jr., from the Kingston Theatre last night. She said that she will make every effort to visit here on Sunday afternoon, but indicated that even that is not too definite.

It was noted in a New York newspaper this morning that Miss Dahl had also been forced to cancel an appearance scheduled for one of the city's largest department stores on Saturday, and that her appearance had been put over until Wednesday.

Visited County Fair

The official tour of the city by Bendix and his party began with their arrival at the city line about 11:20 a. m., when they were picked up by a police escort consisting of Motorcycle Patrolmen Gurnsey Burger, Jr., and Ernest Bartroff. They were taken to the city hall to be greated by Acting Mayor Kelly, then to the Governor Clinton Hotel for luncheon with the service club members. At 2 p. m. they arrived at the Ulster County Fair, where rain forced the ceremonies to be moved under the pavilion. Here Bendix caused a slight stir among homemaking department exhibitors by inviting everyone in to partake of the cakes exhibited there. Apparently nobody took him up on his invitation. Between his appearance at the fair and the 8:40 appearance at the theatre, Bendix and his party attended a small private dinner party given by Walter Reade, Jr., for 20 guests.

At the theatre, Bendix presented Acting Mayor Kelly with a plaque from the mayor of Kingston, Jamaica, congratulating this city on its 300th anniversary.

Charge Denied Before City Judge in Court

James G. Norton, of 14 Shufeldt street, was arrested last night by Officer Kenneth Gaffney and Special Officer Harold Bowers on a charge of driving while intoxicated following a two-car collision at McEntee and Wurts streets.

The police report at 8:30 p. m., said a sedan owned and operated by Gerald R. Perry, of 421 Park Place, Fort Lee, N. J., was headed south on McEntee street, and the car driven by Norton, was headed north on Wurts street and turning right into McEntee street at the time of the collision.

Norton pleaded not guilty before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today and the case was adjourned until Sept. 4 to allow time for the defendant to obtain counsel.

Three-quarters of the earth's surface is covered by water.

MW Coal Contract

Moses, who bargains for 240 million tons of coal a year, on July 22. That means he could legally take his northern soft coal diggers out of the pits about Sept. 22.

His contract expiration notices to Moody and the anthracite industry were given on Aug. 1.

Attack Mother

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—A 24-year-old Brooklyn mother was raped in her home by two men today while her three young children were in an adjoining room. Police said the two men rang the bell and forced their way into the house when the woman opened the door. They robbed her of a ring, wristwatch and two dollars in cash, then held a knife against her throat and attacked her.

Hayostek Tries Again With 'Romance Bottle'

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Frank Hayostek refuses to say die in the romance department.

His "aspirin bottle" romance with an Irish milkmaid having ended inconclusively, the 27-year-old Johnstown, Pa., arc-welder came home by plane today.

Undaunted, he promptly rode to the edge of Jamaica Bay and hurled another aspirin bottle containing his name and address into the briny.

That is what led to his correspondence with Breda O'Sullivan, a 23-year-old milkmaid in County Kerry, Ireland. She picked up an aspirin bottle he tossed from a returning troopship in 1946.

Did he propose to her during his two week stay in Ireland?

"I couldn't," said Hayostek. "We had no privacy. Everywhere we went there were too many people—and if there was any chance for a romance it was killed in the first week of my visit."

Besides, he added:

"She had a lot of farm work to do. Her eight cows took a lot of her time."

Gallant to the end, Hayostek said:

"She'd make an ideal wife. She's a nice girl and attractive. She comes from a good family."

Then he rode to the bay and optimistically tossed in another bottle.

Vegetable Pirates

Pittsfield, Mass., Aug. 22 (AP)—No more will the little "pirate" band sail the Housatonic river after booty. Their Jolly Roger was hauled down today by landlubbers—with police. And blame it all on informers. The "informers" were residents of Wahconah street, who wondered where their vegetables were disappearing to. Police posted a guard on the gardens and this is what he saw last night: Five youngsters, the oldest about 12, sailed down the river in a home-made raft. They beached the craft, loaded it with vegetables and then put out on the water again.

Dutch Coaster Sinks

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, Aug. 22 (AP) — The British ship Fairhead reported today that a Dutch coaster sank off the Dutch island of Terschelling today. The Fairhead said she rescued all 11 members of the coaster's crew. A local shipping agency, Dirkzwager's, identified the Dutch vessel as the 351-ton Peto, of Groningen. A tug and a lifeboat were sent to the scene.
